Foreword

IN publishing this volume of Evergreen and Gold we have attempted to show, in pictorial form, a complete cross-section of University Life.

If we have succeeded, the effort has been worth while.
You are to be the judge.

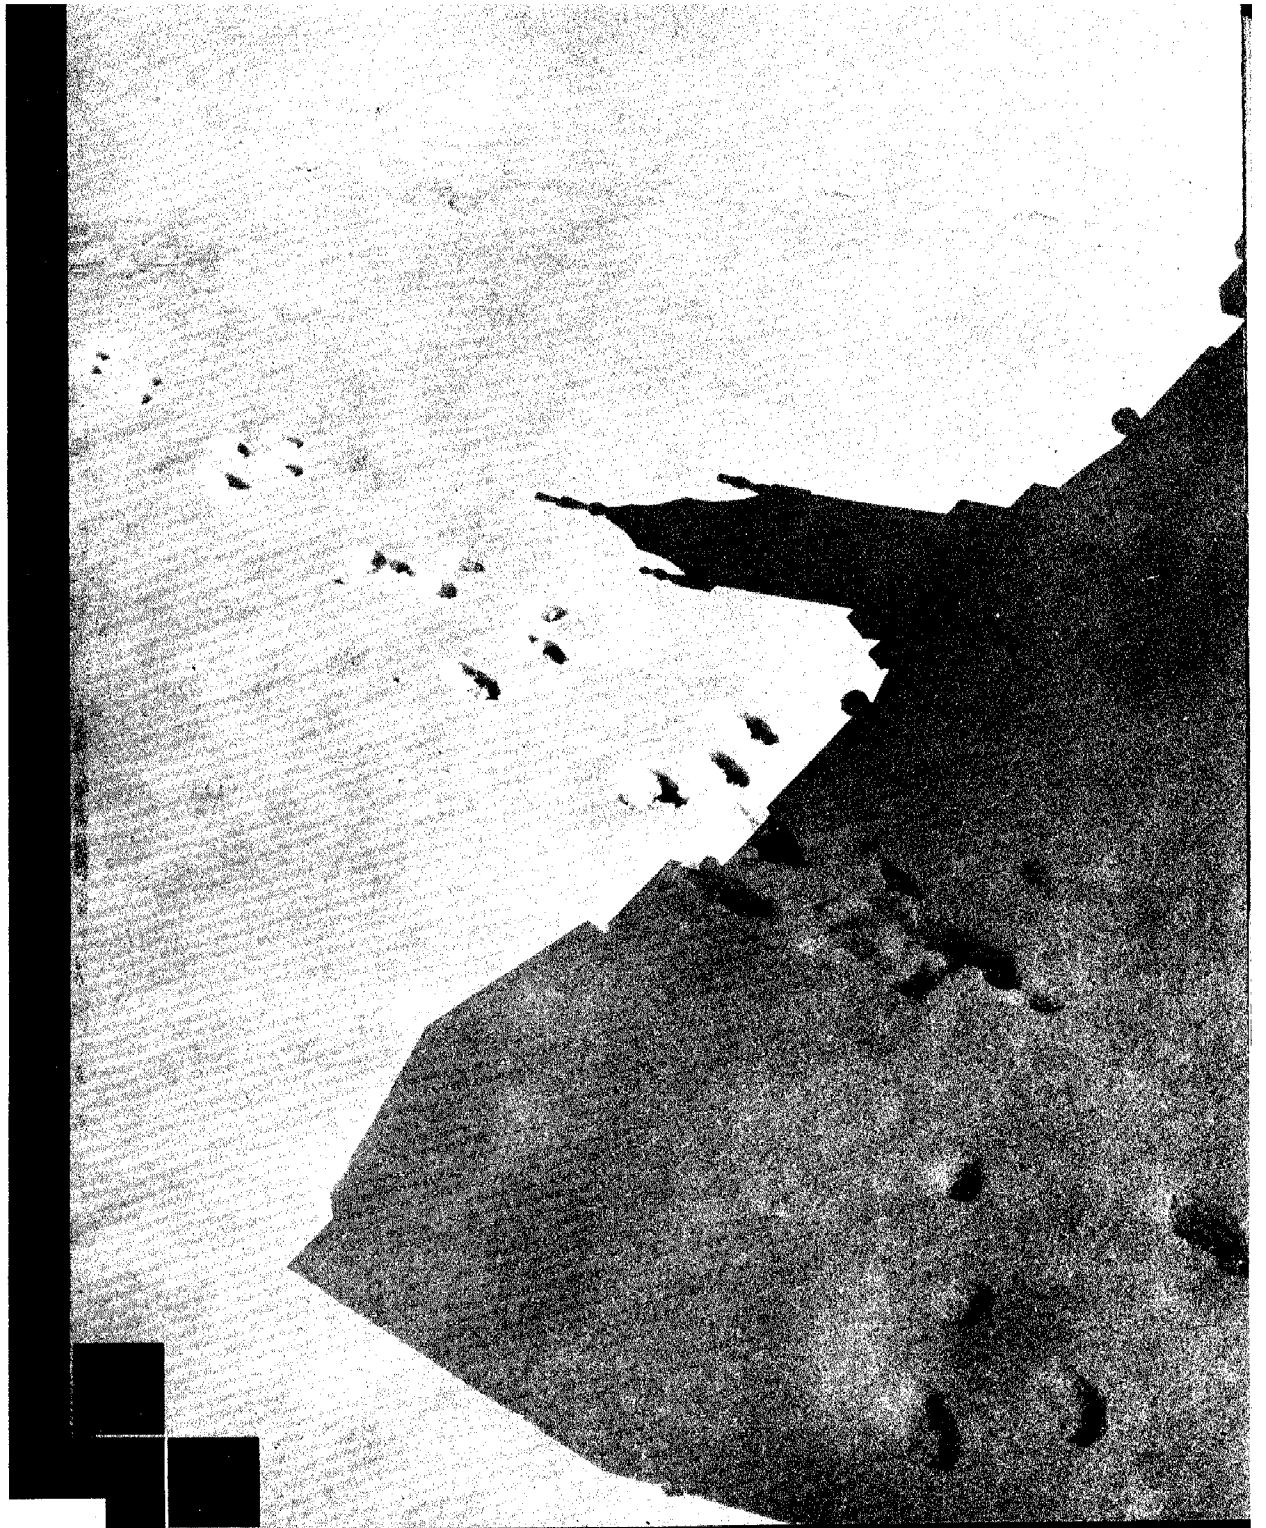

Dedication

TO OUR PRESIDENT DR. ROBERT C. WALLACE WHOSE INTELLECT, ABILITY AND SYMPATHETIC APPRECIATION OF THE STUDENT VIEWPOINT COMMAND THE RESPECT AND ESTEEM OF EVERY STUDENT, WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK.

HISTORY OF CLASS '35

The Class of '35 has left the imprint of its workmanship on every student organization on the campus. This is the imperishable record of its achievements. With the course of time and the influx of new students the changes and improvements that have been made will be a monument to the growth of the University as a whole, and this is as it should be. It is the purpose of the chronicler to record the honors of his classmates so that future historians may allocate to them the work that they have done.

To unfold the pageant of the last four years would be a task beyond the province of this history. Into whatever branch of student activity our inquiry would take us, we would find men and women of Class '35 who had given their energy and enthusiasm in abundance, and made their contributions felt. Each, though deserving of a place, finds his reward in honor to his time, not to himself. It is each person's effort that has built up the achievement of Class '35, and that, as historian, is what I shall record.

Out of the maze of student reform, one thing stands out predominantly, the abolition of initiation. No one can doubt but that Class '35, the Sophomores of an eventful year, played no inconspicuous part in bringing to a conclusion that barbaric practice. Fortunately our honor rests on firmer ground. That was also the year of Alberta's noteworthy success in debating, and three out of the four debaters were Sophomores.

The Junior Prom of '33-'34 stands out as a historical triumph in the annals of our social functions. The sinister motif in the decorations lent an atmosphere that will never be forgotten. The rush for the ticket sale occasioned an outburst from the Gateway that gave the Juniors a complete sell out and made the newspaper heroic as the protector of public liberties.

Although nominally the Year Book is the organ of the graduating class, last year it was entrusted to a member of Class '35. No university publication in the past has reached such a peak of popularity. The Evergreen and Gold of '34 was an artistic achievement, and a monument to ingenuity and enterprise.

As a rule the Gateway may be counted on to speak for itself, but on this occasion it is permissible that we echo it in praise of its accomplishments. The university will from now on be served by two papers a week, and this step was taken under the initiative of Class '35.

The record would be incomplete without reference to the athletic honors that have been conferred on the University in the past four years. The outstanding star of the intercollegiate track meets during several of these years has been a member of our own class. Likewise in rugby, hockey, basketball, as well as in all the inter-faculty and minor sports, we of '35 have been ably, and even brilliantly represented. It is, of course, impossible to ascertain exactly the part we have contributed, but there is no question that members of this year's graduating class have constituted a very important section of every team.

My task is far from complete, but I have at least outlined the part that we have played. If I have eulogized my excuse is that it has been my purpose and my privilege to honor those of whom I speak. What I have said weighs little. It is the imprint of our hands in the traditions and institutions we have moulded that must be the lasting testimonial of our efforts.

HELEN FORD

VALEDICTORY

To bid farewell to our University is our purpose here. In doing so it is almost impossible for one person to express the thoughts and emotions of so large a group of individuals. Even the mark left on one's own character is difficult to estimate. For some of us the end of this college year is but another lap finished in an ambitious educational career, but for the majority of us it is the end of University life. Up to this point has been clear, a definite goal has been reached; but now we face a new road on which the milestones are vague and the final destination uncertain. Before starting along this road let us pause for a moment's retrospection.

For the last four years practically our whole existence has centered around the activities of this campus, but although our confines have remained narrow our outlook has gradually broadened. At first in our ignorance and perhaps in anticipation of learning to be acquired, we felt we must assume the role of the sage and proclaim to the world our wisdom. The second year Med. diagnoses the particular ailments of his engineer friend, who in turn, attired in high boots and a dirty shirt, builds railroads and highways from one end of the campus to the other; while the embryonic lawyer and his ever present brief case retires to the library to read cases; all feeling very important and wise. As we passed into our senior years the magnitude of our ignorance became apparent and one made sure of his audience before breaking out into professional discourse. And now we can be merely humble at what must go unlearned even if we were to study until the end of time. Always one learns from every new contact. The equipment we have with which to face the world feels far from adequate and seems only to have revealed many pitfalls and opportunity for error. Our responsibilities weigh heavily.

We came primarily for learning but find that it is only a small part of that with which we leave. As freshmen we left homes where we were surrounded by lauding relatives and tried friends. On arriving here we were thrust upon our own resources. The necessity of gaining agreeable companions forced us to erase from our characters much that was undesirable and we adjusted ourselves to live in harmony with those who did not lovingly tolerate our faults and misdemeanors. In giving and getting friendship we received many a lesson in the graceful art of living.

All this learning, developing, adjusting, rounding and shaping of adolescent character has been interlaced with the priceless spirit of youth. It is doubtful whether we will ever again be given the chance or have the desire to express that spirit. Those who have never known the inimitable ribaldry and recklessness of student life, or those who have wilfully forgotten it are prone to criticize; but can anything take the place of the laughter, the jokes, the pranks, the songs, the silly adventures that have filled the leisure hours, often stolen? In our enthusiasm our mistakes may have warranted the wrath of the powers, but in taking some of this spirit with us we have a priceless possession.

Such a nebulous thing as University spirit does not, perhaps, mean much to us until we are on the eve of our departure. Yet there has been that oneness of feeling when we, all together, have been excited to fever-pitch in watching our teams compete with others, when we have passed through the nervous tension and agony of examinations. We shall, perhaps, never again experience the flow of sympathy from one to another, we will miss our daily companionship with many people engaged in the same pursuits, and we will note the sad ending of our joyous activities together. Our years at this University will come later to mean to us more than a culling of knowledge and the acquiring of a good scholastic standing—it will be to us a period in which we were conscious of a mutual striving together for the same end. If we are able to carry this same spirit into our future relationships in the world at large, to extend the same sympathy and co-operation into our work there, we will have carried away from the University something invaluable to the harmonious solution of world-wide problems.

The traditions of Alberta University are in the process of being formed. Eventually the scope of activities here will be governed by those traditions. Infringements on our liberties which we have felt were gross impositions because of our recent vintage, will, if they prove their worth, become merely custom. It has been our privilege to be students during this period of evolution and any contribution to its advancement seems very small in consideration of the numbers who have gone before and the numbers still to come. But we have been a vital part of it for a while and can be sure that our class has engraved something notable on the annals of the University.

These traditions coupled with learning will carry a chosen few to fame and fortune. They are the minority destined for greatness which will bring them the plaudits of their own and other countries, making them leaders in science, in politics, in finance, or in their chosen vocation. They will realize that while they were here they built the foundation for that success. But we others who do not gain material greatness or win spectacular fame, shall we appreciate these last four years? Perhaps not consciously, but in our humdrum existence our mode of living certainly will be influenced by the standards set up here. Our comprehension and appreciation of life will be increased immeasurably. Because we have shared an interest in the varied arts and sciences here we shall not allow ourselves to become completely immersed in our own narrow sphere of activity. Although we never acquire worldly wealth or the right to fame we shall find ourselves constantly grateful for the poise, the tolerance, the tact and the countless other assets absorbed in the casual contacts and the close associations of the campus.

During our stay here we have been carefully directed, error has been expected, tolerated, corrected; now we go out into a busy and uninterested world and take our place with our experience as a guide. We are fully equipped, in our hands are the tools with which to shape the future; the use to which they are put lies with us alone; whether we keep them sharp with constructive use or let them become dull with selfish handling is our personal problem. Today we are successes in as much as we have a degree, we have completed something creditably. May we have the same glow of happiness and satisfaction years hence as we look back on other work completed, feel that we have lived life fully, taken our part in the problems of our community, accepted joy and adventure as it was offered, given our best to a restless civilization, and figuratively, obtained a degree in the art of living.

SENIOR CLASS

One by one the black garbed army of graduates file slowly and silently across the stage. How striking their likeness to a mourners' procession. The sombre figures cross the stage and pass from view. Someone should laugh or shout or scream to tear aside the heavy curtain of silence. Instead a mere corner is discreetly lifted for each successful candidate by the dutiful applause of a few beaming relatives and faithful friends.

We are the class of '35. A few short years ago we ventured in. We searched along dark corridors, in stuffy lecture rooms and interminable labs; we looked through student organizations, both executive and social, and out over the field of athletics—all this in quest of "whatsoever things are true".

And now we depart, humble in the thought of much we did not do, but proud in the thought of our many achievements and consoled for the breaking of old ties by the knowledge that we are better prepared for new ones.

JUNIOR CLASS

Juniors, Hail! In these days of repression you are irrepressible. Class '36 being the last to suffer the happy embarrassment of initiation has conserved a great deal of energy to vent upon Class '35, which privilege being arrested from them, they have used their surplus vitality in invading every field of University activity. There, among Clubs, Athletics, Dramatics, Wauneita Executives, Students' Union Executives, do you not find Juniors to the right of you, Juniors to the left of you?

And speaking of god-like things, this year's Buddha bids fair for immortality along with last year's Devil. Mid Oriental vases, tapestries and dragons, the Prom was a sinister success.

"The Bronze Lady and the Crystal Gentleman," which won us laurels in the Inter-year Play Competition, was positively scintillating. May this same delicious spirit of frolic and fun never quite desert Class '36 in the perilous passage of assuming the dignity befitting graduates.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

This year we meet many in our ranks who were not with us as Freshmen. The two groups combined continue their University training together, all striving to further the ideals of Class '37.

Athletically our class is well represented. Members have sought most successfully for individual honors in track, badminton, and tennis especially.

The play "Michael" by Miles Malleon, was the class contribution to the Inter-Year Play Competition. With this entry the Sophomores were close seconds for the Drama Shield.

It will be a long time before one can forget the Sophomore Reception to Freshmen. The "Balloon Formal" was a sensation.

All this is merely an inadequate review of the effect of Class '37 on the year 1934-35. What is far more important is the effect of 1934-35 upon Class '37. The friendships established and the contacts made are to have an untold influence upon us. May we meet again as Juniors to continue those relations established during the first years of University Life.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The curtain descends upon our Freshman year. And now we move ahead to eagerly-anticipated fields of new endeavour. But with us we shall carry priceless reminiscences of our first year at College.

Class '38 was formally organized early in the year and the seven students pictured herewith were invested with the powers of executive administration. We were privileged to have as our Honorary President, Dr. Edouard Sonet, who was most generous in his enthusiastic support of the class at all times.

Throughout the year Freshman talent played a notable part in the extra-curricular activities of the University. Rugby, hockey, tennis, dramatics, the Gateway, the Year Book—all had their quota of the Class of '38. In the social realm the Freshman Reception provided the season's last formal. And to crown the whole, this year's class claims the largest Year Book representation in the history of the Green and Gold.

So ends our Freshman Year—a highly successful session. Class '38, keep it up.

HONORARY PRESIDENT

STUDENTS'

In reviewing its term of office, the Students' Council of 1934-35 lays no claim to having inaugurated a new era in student self-government. Accepting existing administrative machinery as generally adequate, it has been Council's policy to operate that machinery with a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of change. Sound legislation, smooth administration, strong leadership—these are the characteristics by which its activities have been marked, and by which it will be remembered.

Adopting a legislative policy of purge and perfection, Council has scrutinized, and where necessary, brought in amendments to almost every statute in the Students' Union Constitution. This policy was applied most notably to the Students' Union Act, the Enforcement Act, and the several awards systems.

COUNCIL

With a view to increasing local and outside interest in student activities, Council has framed two new acts providing for the so-called Students' Union rally and extensions departments. It is to be hoped that these measures to stimulate a Varsity esprit de corps will prove successful.

The financial policy of the year has been a sound one. Budgeting for a minimum surplus, Council has enabled individual clubs to enjoy the utmost latitude in financing. Furthermore, the proposed scheme of converting existing reserves and future surpluses into a building fund to assist eventually in providing for a Students' Union building may prove to be the most important work of this year's council, and will, it is hoped, lead to the ultimate realization of this splendid project.

Council has laboured hard to make its regime one of strong government and solid achievement. What the ultimate worth of these labours may be, only time will reveal.

EDWARD MCCORMICK, DIRECTOR

PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT

Opening up a new field of extra-curricular undergraduate activity, the Student Publicity Department, organized in the fall under the direction of Ed McCormick, inaugurated several new phases of campus life and consolidated several others.

The Publicity Department was faced with multiple difficulties, overcame most of them, and failed before some of them. However, in laying the foundation of a branch of student life that will gain increasing importance in future years, the department believes it has built with foresight and ability that will be appreciated in years to come.

Divisions of the main department and activities under its direction were the rally department, the orchestra, schedule department, advertising, lost and found bureau, and news service bureau.

Spurring on Co-eds and male students to football game attendances, the rally group, with pep meetings and organized cheering at games, shared in breaking attendance records with a championship team. Special feat of the rally men was the promotion of an exhibition contest between two divisions of the Varsity team that was witnessed by 500 people.

The lost and found bureau was successful in locating and replacing many valuable articles that had gone astray and inaugurating a new branch of student service. The schedule department and orchestra operated efficiently as did the advertising department, managed by Harper Prowse. The latter service saved the Union considerable advertising outlay by consolidating all branches. The news service, managed by Paul Malone, supplied Alberta publications with a weekly news letter and maintained cordial relations with Edmonton dailies.

So extensive and varied have been the cares of the Publicity Department during the past year that the retiring Students' Union executive saw fit to reorganize it and divide it into two branches—rally department and student union extension department.

The Women's Disciplinary Committee is not intended to take the place or to overlap the duties of Pembina House Committee. It endeavors to direct the general attitude of the women students on the campus outside of Pembina Hall, whether they live in residence or in the city.

The Committee is composed of women directly or indirectly elected by the University women.

The Women's Disciplinary Committee has been singularly fortunate in having had under their supervision an extremely sensible and clear-thinking group of young women. They require, if anything, only somebody to guide them into conduct conforming to the rules which they themselves have made. They do not need to have a committee to enforce rules alien to them. Thus it becomes apparent that the Disciplinary Committee simply by its existence has perhaps done more good than it has through actual enforcement. Its true function is that of an advisory body to help maintain a high standard of conduct. It is only by the splendid sympathy and co-operation of the students under its jurisdiction that the Committee has been able to serve its purpose.

Twenty-three years of Wauneitas, and the tribe is flourishing in all its youthful vigor. One hundred and fifty were added to its number this fall and with renewed strength the Wauneitas started their year's activities.

The Wauneita Reception to Men Students came first and was a great success—supper being served for the first time in many years, so that the 1934 "Wauneita" is a landmark in our history.

Mrs. R. K. Gordon, our honorary president invited all the women in executive positions on the campus to her home for tea on January twenty-ninth, lightening for one pleasant afternoon the burden of responsibility imposed upon these care-laden maidens.

The Wauneita Banquet in March gathered everyone together for the last time this year. Here, besides enjoying an excellent dinner, many Wauneitas displayed remarkable eloquence and histrionic ability. Once more the Wauneita Song was sung and another year was ended.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

Life in Residence during the past year has been extremely quiet and uneventful, as far as the House Committee has been concerned. In fact, that august body has had to function as a disciplinary force, meeting in closed session only a very few times, and then for minor infractions of the rules.

However, the work of the Committee has been lightened considerably, because the University Authorities have taken into their own hands the control of the two things which in previous years have caused the greatest anxiety—namely, the imbibing of spirituous liquors in Residence, and the matter of “hazing”. Thus have many of the more unpleasant tasks been removed from the catalogue of duties of the House Committee.

Early in the term it seemed a possibility that the Saturday night House Dances would be taken over by the Students’ Union. They were retained by the House Committee and each dance has been well patronized and a decided success. The Christmas Banquet, which by now is a tradition in Residence, proved to be a very delightful affair, as in other years.

The students in Residence during the past year have been very sportsmanlike, and a fine spirit of co-operation has existed between them and the members of the Committee at all times. To this, in no small measure, has been due the success of the year. Last, but not least, the House Committee wish to thank those whose trying task it is to guide the students and advise House Committees, year after year—Miss Dodd, Dr. MacEachran and Mr. Jones.

For a quarter of a century the turreted castle has been a familiar landmark on the campus. But each year to a group of at least seventy men it is much more than a landmark. It is St. Stephen's College—a residence and a home. It is a place where men from every faculty mingle in all the varied activities of the College life.

The general affairs of the College are administered by the elected Students' Council of St. Stephen's College of which, this year, Dr. Tuttle is Honorary President.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE HOUSE COMMITTEE

Student government has functioned perfectly at St. Joseph's College during the year 1934-35. Never before was the House so orderly and quiet, especially during study time. This careful observance of the house rules, largely due to the intelligent resourcefulness of the House Committee, has been effected without the usual high quota of fines. Some of these latter were even replaced by a sentence of three nights on phone duty, and were found quite effective.

The Cafeteria, enlarged and improved, did a thriving business all year. Both students and professors found it a good place for meals and refreshments as well as for meeting friends. The quality of food served, the cleanliness of the place and its efficient service have been favorably commented on.

St. Joe's Autumn Formal is said to have been "the best yet". Other Social functions were likewise highly successful.

St. Joseph's has become a favorite meeting-place for the different student organizations, including the Students' Council.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE

In view of the fact that the Constitutional Enforcement Committee has been very recently established under the Students' Union, it might be well to outline briefly the constitution and general functions of this Committee. Such an outline may prove informative to the vast majority of those who fall under its jurisdiction, because, although the Committee operates effectively, it does so in a most unostentatious manner. To those fortunate persons who have not had occasion to meet this august body behind closed doors, it may be merely a name. At least we cannot rest sufficient faith in the assumption that all concerned are so conversant with the Constitution of the Students' Union as to make any reference to it unnecessary.

The Committee was set up by means of the "Enforcement of the Constitution Act" in the spring of 1934, and has therefore been existent for approximately a year. It is composed of a chairman and two other members, preferably senior students who hold no other office in the Students' Union. These members are appointed by the Students' Council. In addition, should the Committee think it advisable it may invite other persons to its meetings in an advisory or other capacity.

Primarily, the purpose of the Committee, as appears from its designation, is to deal with all matters involving the welfare and good government of the Students' Union, by enforcing the provisions of its Constitution. In order that its decisions may be carried out, it has power to impose fines up to the sum of $10.00, or to bar offenders from student activities or student offices, or to impose all these penalties.

A good many persons who have interested themselves in the Committee have been slightly dubious about its usefulness. They incline to think that it is merely another institution set up to confuse further an already complicated organization.

However, the Committee may be justified by reference to that complicated organization. The officers of the various clubs under the Students' Council are authorized to control a part of the student funds. It is expedient that there be somebody to which these officers will be called on to account in case of any laxity or inefficiency in carrying out their duties.

With this in mind the Committee, besides imposing penalties where it is deemed necessary, attempts to analyze the difficulties which confront the various officers of the Union and to bring them to the attention of the Students' Council with suggestions as to remedies. By functioning on that basis the Committee is able to instruct as well as to enforce, and to ensure the least expensive and most efficient administration of Students' Union activities.

ROGER COUGHLIN
RINK MANAGER

MR. A. WEST

THE COVERED RINK

Our Covered Rink has become as much a part of the University as the Arts Building, or Pembina, and seems indeed, to be much more indispensable than lectures. Many a student who is rather hazy as to the whereabouts of the Architectural or House Ec Labs, can tell you immediately, and with accuracy how to reach the Covered Rink; and many a student who is wondering whether that last skip was the tenth or the eleventh, has not missed one skating night all season.

Those burly Athabascans and Assiniboians, bursting with youth and high spirits, found that their warlike and exuberant spirits could find ample opportunity for expression and exhaustion in a rousing game of "table hockey" at the Rink.

Those who felt themselves growing stale from study, thought they needed exercise, just threw their skates over their shoulders and went over to the Rink for a few fast turns. Some just included skating nights in their time-table, and appeared regularly at the Rink for their two hours of recreation.

Not only has the Rink been extremely popular, but it has also been a success financially. The management for 1934-35 embarked on a new economic policy, whereby it was able to offer season tickets for one half the price of former years. The ice was rented to Varsity groups for hockey at very reasonable rates. In fact their policy might well be sloganized as "More for Less". Despite these cuts in prices, the Rink has paid its way, and will not require its full budget appropriation.

During the summer it will undergo repairs and enlargements, and next winter the students will find a strictly modern and larger Rink at their disposal.

THE GATEWAY

OLIVER TOMKINS

The Gateway, this year, has published two issues a week. This change from a weekly to a semi-weekly paper has been most successful and will probably be continued. The students of Mount Royal Junior College, Calgary, joined the ranks of the Gateway subscribers, and so the Gateway serves as an introduction to the University proper, for them. The subscribers also range from graduates of long standing and undergraduates, to all the other newspapers in the province. Such a variety of readers requires that the paper contain different kinds of material if it is to appeal to all, and obviously each class cannot be fully satisfied.

The policy was adopted this year of having the writers of news articles comment on the news and give their own views and opinions, in this way attempting to make the Gateway an organ for expressing what the students are thinking, rather than what they are doing. Undergraduate publications, to be successful, must primarily be reviews, and only secondarily, newspapers.

The outstanding features in the Gateway this year have been the discussions of three of the major problems of the undergraduate life—Religion, Politics and Education. At the beginning of the term there were charges of Irreligion against the University, which were spiritedly refuted by the students, through the Gateway. Students' views on the function of the University were presented. After Christmas, "Professors in Politics" was the front page question, with the undergraduates, as would be expected, espousing the cause of freedom. Subsequent issues of the paper were marked by a critical discussion of education and student spirit. Examinations and their purpose came under review; the outlook for the professional schools and of course the old question of compulsory attendance at lectures were also among the particular subjects dealt with.

Prizes were awarded this year to the best contributions appearing in the Gateway during the course of the term. Parker Kent was given the prize for the best news write-up; John Garrett for the best feature write-up and Stuart Shaw for the best letter to the editor.

A Merry Christmas

I welcome the opportunity which the Editor has afforded me to express to the students of this University my good wishes for the Christmas season. To many of you the Christmas vacation will mean a return to the home circle from which you have been separated, during these few months, for the first time. To all of you it will, I hope, mean a renewal of ties with home and friends. It will be a time of joy and merriment; I trust that it will be a time of rest and recreation. For in recreation we renew our spiritual energies as we refresh our bodies. We draw from the past for the demands of the future; we replenish our stores. May the Christmas season be to all of us a time of drawing deeply from the wellsprings that recreate, so that we may be a source of refreshment to others.

And so, may I wish you all a time of recreation in the Christmas season, and high courage for the tasks of the New Year.

Rh. C. Walker

President of the University.

With the present term drawing to its close, it is in accordance with accepted custom and tradition that we should pause to take stock of that which we have achieved, and to contemplate that to which we aspire. For the individual and for the Students' Union, the dying year is fraught with many memories—memories happy and unhappy, memories of triumph and of defeat.

In the realm of student activity it is patent that two departments—the undergraduate paper and the department of men's athletics—have achieved a resounding success. Details of that success are known to all, and I can only hope that other student organizations may profit by the example which is highly worthy of emulation. To the individual and to the organization who feel that they have failed, there remains the bright hope of a more successful New Year, and the inspiring thought that with one battle lost there is yet ample time to win another.

I am happy to have this opportunity to wish all members of the Students' Union a very Merry Christmas and a most Happy and Prosperous New Year.

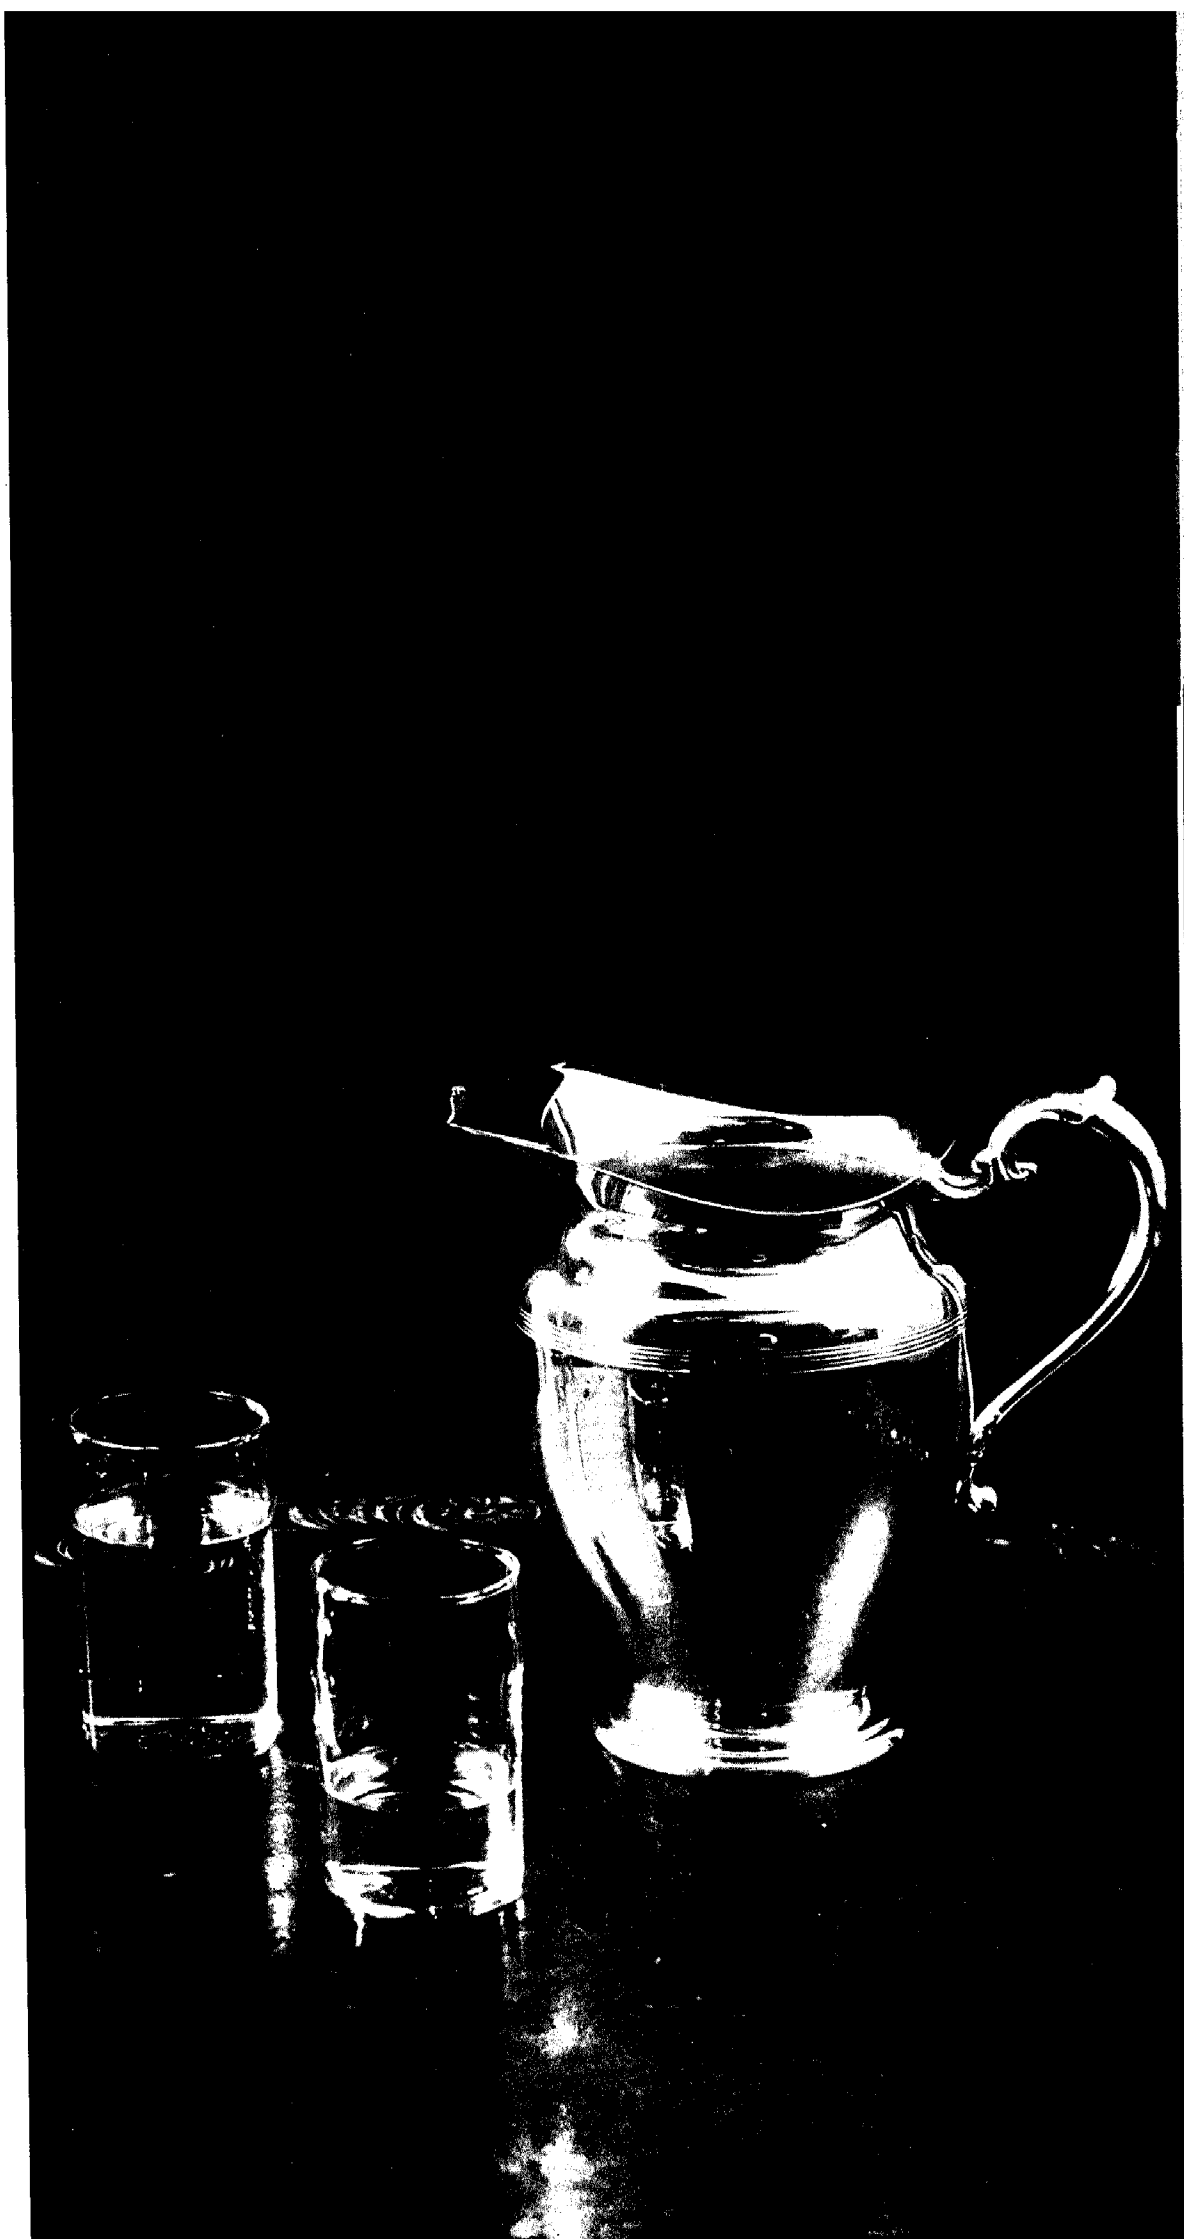

Arthur J. Bismeyer

President of the Students' Union.

LITERARY SOCIETY

BILL EPSTEIN
SECRETARY

Looking back upon the year's activities of the Literary Association, we can, on the whole, "point with pride" rather than "view with alarm". The Association is, of course, merely a convenient grouping of independent units for representation in the Union. Hence when speaking of its successes or saggings, one cannot think in terms of a single organization but of four separate media through which the students have expressed themselves and their interests. These are, Dramatics and Debating, Music and Politics.

Aesthetic rather than forensic expression has been the prevailing note this year. The Dramatic and Philharmonic Societies have never been more vitally alive. Debating has been unfortunate in that the Western League dissolved through no fault of Alberta, and whether from the fact that students have nothing to say, or the forum is no longer an interesting place to say it, University oratory seems to be suffering from something like moribund ennui. The Political Science Club has justified its new position without spending its Budget.

The past has not been so terrible, and the future always has possibilities. The Literary Association embodied student life in the "higher" fields. Its vitality depends entirely upon whether that life exists.

MARK McCLUNG
PRESIDENT

This year's Honorary President was Mr. D. E. Cameron. The president was Mark McClung, and Tom Costigan and Burt Ayre completed the executive.

Of course the outstanding event of the year was the Imperial Debate, won by Ralph Collins and Bill Epstein.

The Inter-Varsity debate was cancelled because of withdrawals by Manitoba and British Columbia.

Two Open Forums were quite successful. The first, on the subject of student liberty drew forth veritable torrents of talk. The other was concerned with the problem of the woman's place in the world. It was debated by four women, who, in appropriate costumes, made puns, quoted Gertrude Stein, and staged an excellent burlesque of a feminist meeting. The house, well entertained voted for the entertainers, not the argument of which there was really none.

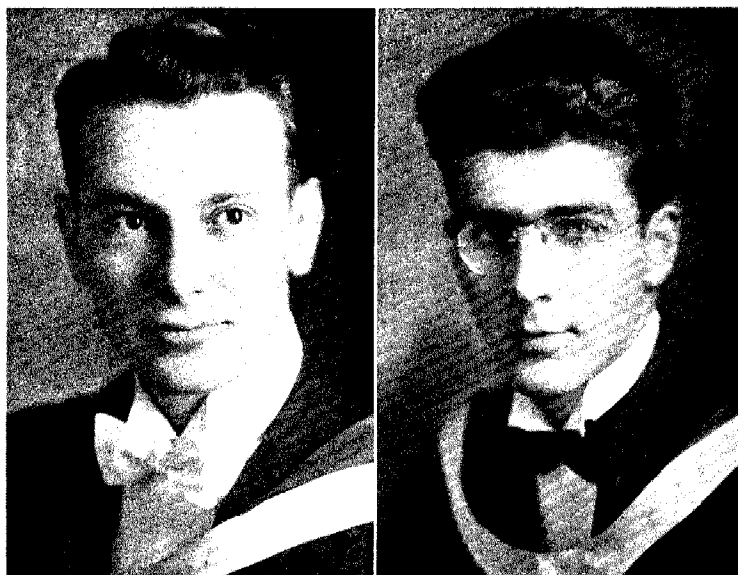

Excepting these two occasions, however, the forums have been poorly attended, and a general lack of enthusiasm displayed. To remedy such a deplorable state is one of the many challenges passed to the future.

IMPERIAL DEBATE

On Sunday, November 25th, a team of British debaters arrived in Edmonton for a three-day visit and incidentally to hold a debate. Its members were Robert Crichton of Oxford, and Leslie Jackson of Cambridge. During the two days preceding the debate, our visitors were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. MacEachran, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cameron and the Brothers of St. Joseph's College.

The debate was held under the distinguished patronage of His Honor, the Lieutenant Governor, the subject being, "Resolved that Liberalism, though it yet speaketh, is dead." The visitors opposed the Resolution and Alberta was represented by Ralph Collins and William Epstein. Dr. A. S. Tuttle, Mr. H. M. E. Evans and Mr. H. H. Parlee, acting as judges, gave our team a decision of two-one. Both teams showed adequate knowledge of the subject in its political, economic and social ramifications, and the audience was pleased by the way in which the speakers devoted their attention to the relevant and critical questions without evasion. In ease of delivery and clarity of voice, the British team was superior, while Alberta's argument seems to have been more appealing to the judges. After the debate, the speakers and friends of the Debating Society enjoyed supper at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wallace.

The Executive wishes to thank all those who so kindly helped to make the debate such a success and the entire visit of Mr. Crichton and Mr. Jackson so pleasant for us all.

PROVINCIAL DEBATES

AT LEDUC

After many postponements and several trips to Leduc, Tom Costigan and Matt Davis, from the University, arrived in that metropolis on a day that the opposition was prepared to debate, Wednesday, November 5th.

The University debaters upheld the affirmative of the resolution, "Resolved that World Brotherhood is an Entirely Practicable Doctrine". Leduc's debaters, Mr. R. McLaren and Mr. E. Cook, supported the negative.

Following the debate the house was thrown open for discussion. In the confusion that followed, a discussion on the debate was forgotten, and both teams returned home claiming they were victorious.

TOM COSTIGAN

MATT DAVIS

LEN SAYERS

BURT AYRE

AT CAMROSE

The University, represented by Len Sayers and Burt Ayre argued in favour of the resolution "That Social Credit would be a Useful Measure of Reform". They pointed out that the cause of all our present economic distemper lay in our financial system; but with sweeping denunciations and condemnations, the opposition, amply argued by Mr. Brigg and Mr. Ridley, hurled destructive epithets at the entire capitalistic system and won judicial approval. The decision was regarded with mutuality, though with a bit of natural regret on the part of the University representatives, and the event concluded a complete success.

AT VEGREVILLE

In a debate which kept the audience engrossed throughout, the University defeated Vegreville at the United Church there, on Friday, February 1st. The resolution, "Resolved that Universal Brotherhood is an Entirely Practicable Doctrine", offered plenty of opportunity for lively argument and wit, and the Varsity representatives, Leonard Bercuson and Kenneth Madsen, made the most of it, managing to defeat Vegreville's team, consisting of Miss A. Olyan and Mr. E. Horton, by a narrow margin. Both teams obtained an equal number of points on argument, but the greater experience and polish of our debaters gave them the decision.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

This past year the Dramatic Society has tried to do fewer things and to do them better. This year several sets of plays were purchased; the Reading Groups were carried on during the winter.

The Senior Class Entry in the Inter-Year Play Competition and the entry to the Provincial Dramatic Festival were both Alberta plays. The executive feels that the production of such plays is very worth-while and hopes to see this policy followed by future executives.

The Spring Play "A Sleeping Clergyman" was written by James Bridie; this was directed by Emrys Jones, and too much credit cannot be given to his work.

All in all, it was a good year, even counting some prolonged squabbles over play production.

"THE BRONZE LADY AND THE CRYSTAL GENTLEMAN"

A clever choice of play, capable direction and excellent acting won the annual Inter-Year Play Competition of 1934-35 for the Junior Class.

The piece was "The Bronze Lady and the Crystal Gentleman," a comedy of French origin. Norah Young directed; the players were Parker Kent, Eleanor Swallow, Robin Ritchie, Jack Garrett, John Corley and Paul Malone.

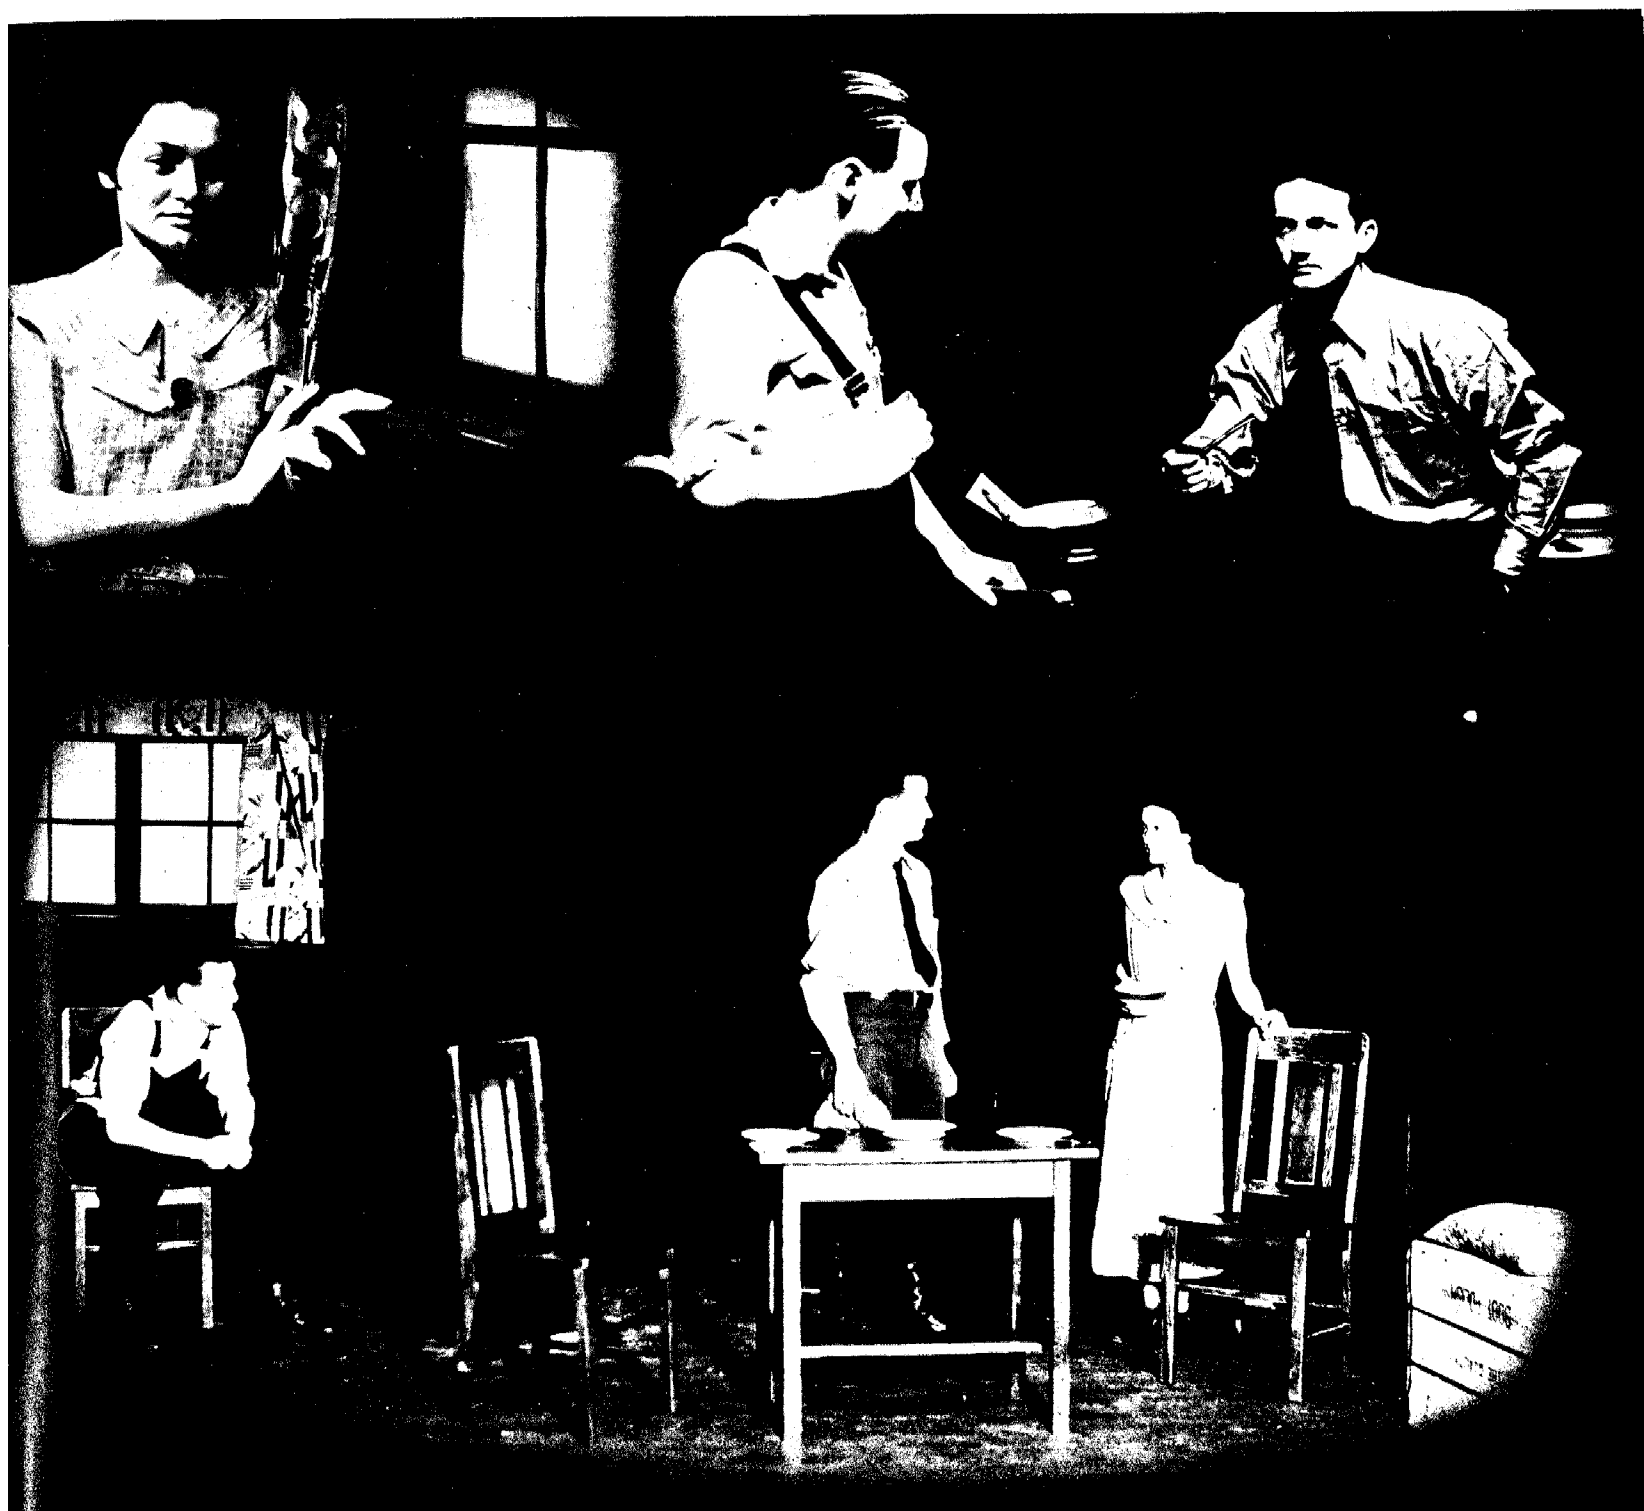

For his capable handling of his role popular vote declared Parker Kent's the best male performance of the evening.

"GOD MADE THE COUNTRY"

Presenting a sternly realistic conception of life as it is lived by the pioneers of modern Alberta, Margaret Aldwinckle, Parker Kent and Jack Chalmers represented the University at the annual Provincial Drama Festival held in Calgary in February.

The piece was written by Elsie Park Gowan, a resident of Edmonton, and directed by Norah Young.

Although the play failed to meet with the success of last year's presentation, this year's offering made a favorable impression on the adjudicator and the audience.

"THE SLEEPING CLERGYMAN"

Veering away from accepted traditions and daring to present a play dealing with elemental aspects of life as it is lived through three successive generations, this year's Spring Play was rated by critics as one of the best amateur productions ever staged in Edmonton.

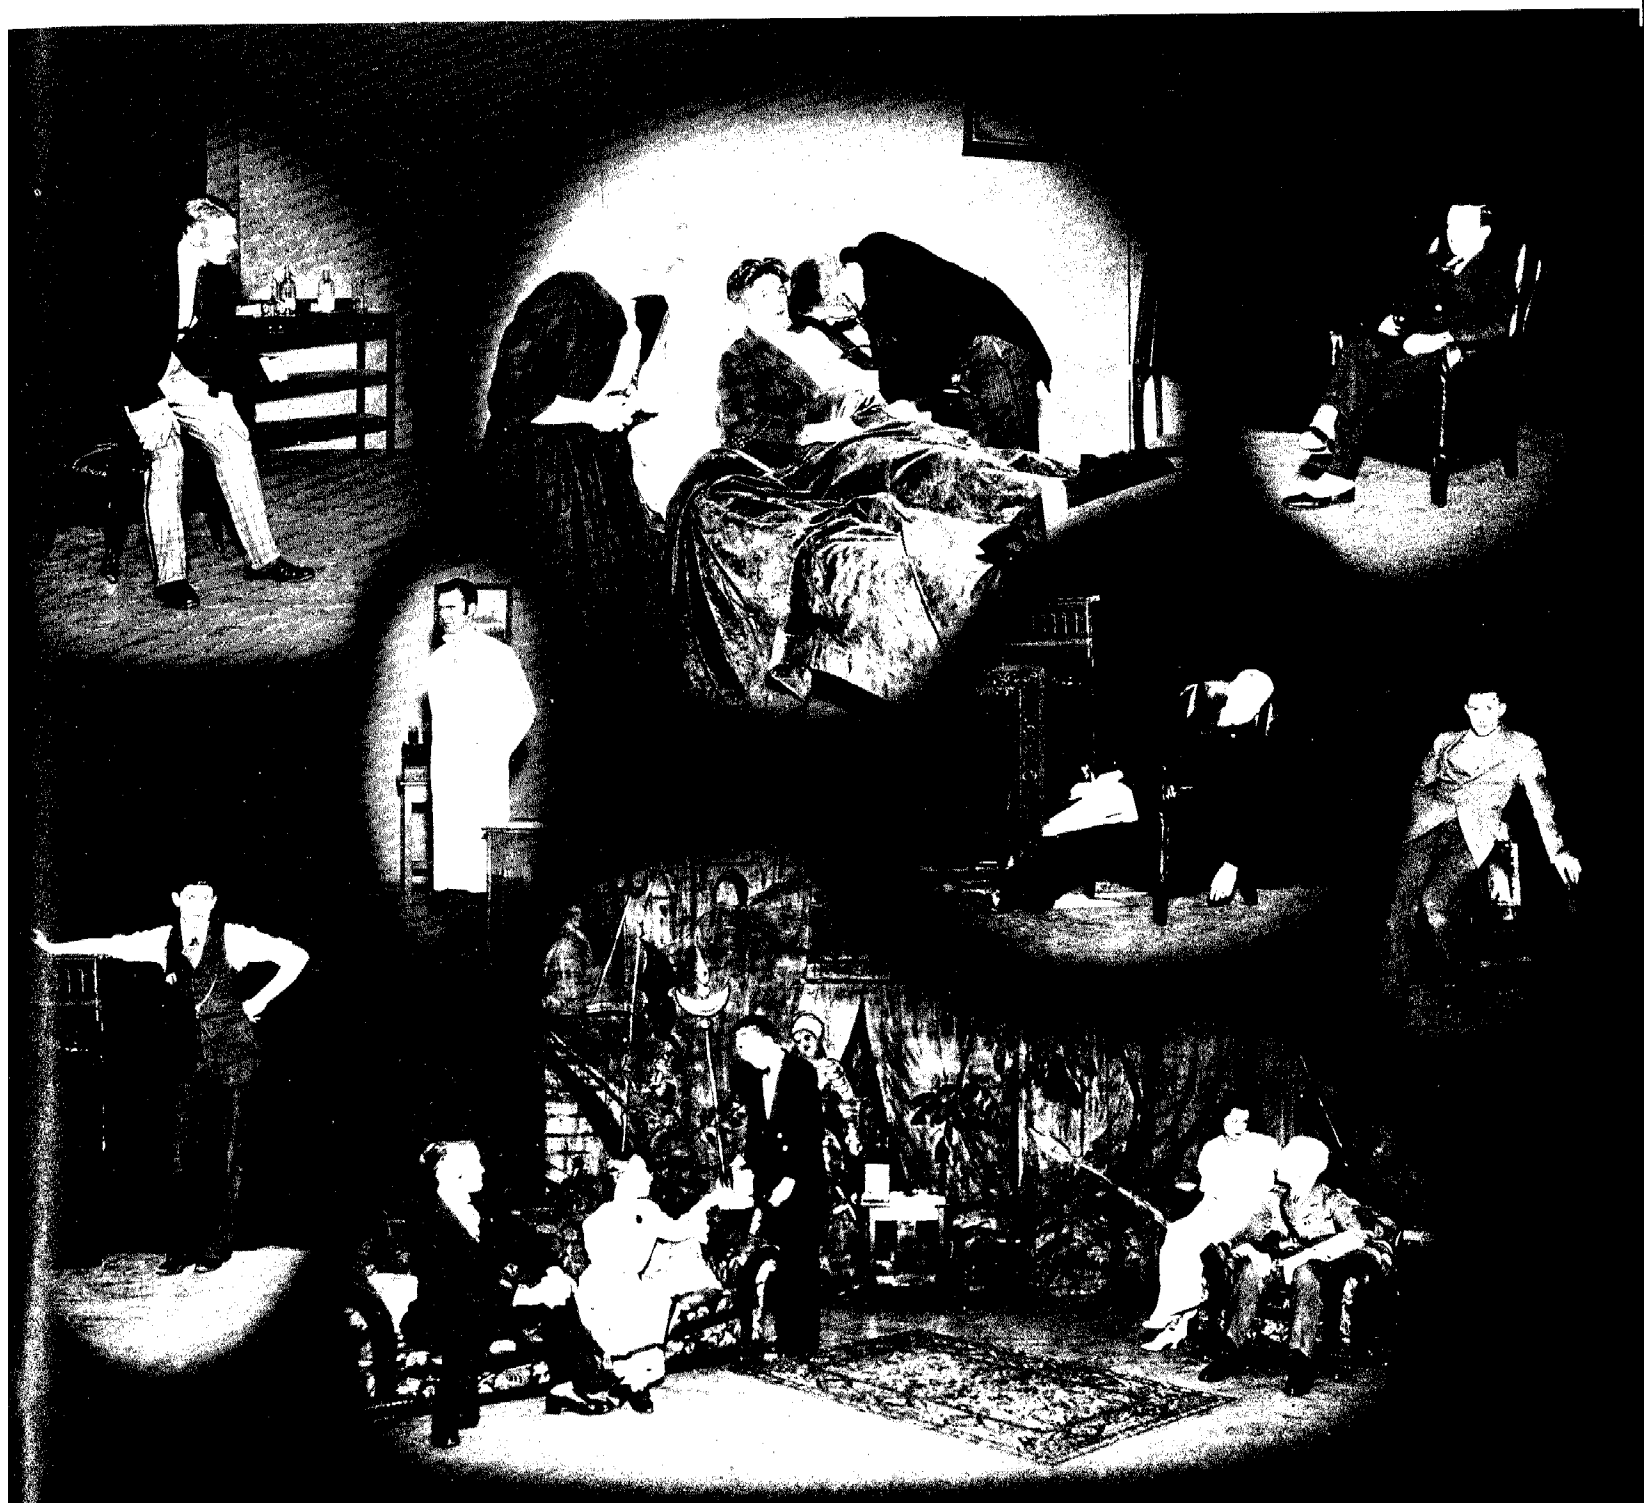

The choice of "The Sleeping Clergyman" was justified by the excellence of its presentation in which director, stage manager and cast shared in equal degree. Emrys Jones, long prominent in

"THE SLEEPING CLERGYMAN"

Edmonton amateur theatrical circles, was responsible for production of the piece. Understanding of the motives of the play together with an accurate adjudgment of respective abilities of the members of his cast were demonstrated by Mr. Jones.

George Casper and Mr. Frank Halroyd, capably assisted, accomplished sterling property management and were particularly complimented for managing difficult stage effects.

Hazel Sutherland, Walter Dallamore and Bob Folinsbee, central figures in the offering displayed talent and ability in leading roles. Mary Duncan and Harper Prowse were excellent in important parts as was the charming Hilda Schmitt.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY

The Philharmonic Society has enjoyed another year of success for which much credit is due Mr. Harry Prevey, the director of the chorus and orchestra.

The first activity of the Society was a concert given by the chorus and orchestra for the soldiers in the University Hospital. Later the orchestra provided the musical entertainment at the Inter-Year Plays.

The most important event of the year was the staging of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "H.M.S. Pinafore". The combined efforts of chorus and orchestra made this a most entertaining production. A great deal of its success was due to Mrs. T. Gardner and Mr. T. Dalkin, directors of the singing and dialogue of the operetta. Miss V. Harvey capably directed the dancing.

The Philharmonic Executive are to be congratulated upon this year's success. It is to be hoped that this will prove an incentive to the efforts of successive Philharmonic Societies.

"H. M. S. PINAFORE"

This year the Philharmonic Society chose for its major production the charmingly satirical "H.M.S. Pinafore" of Gilbert and Sullivan.

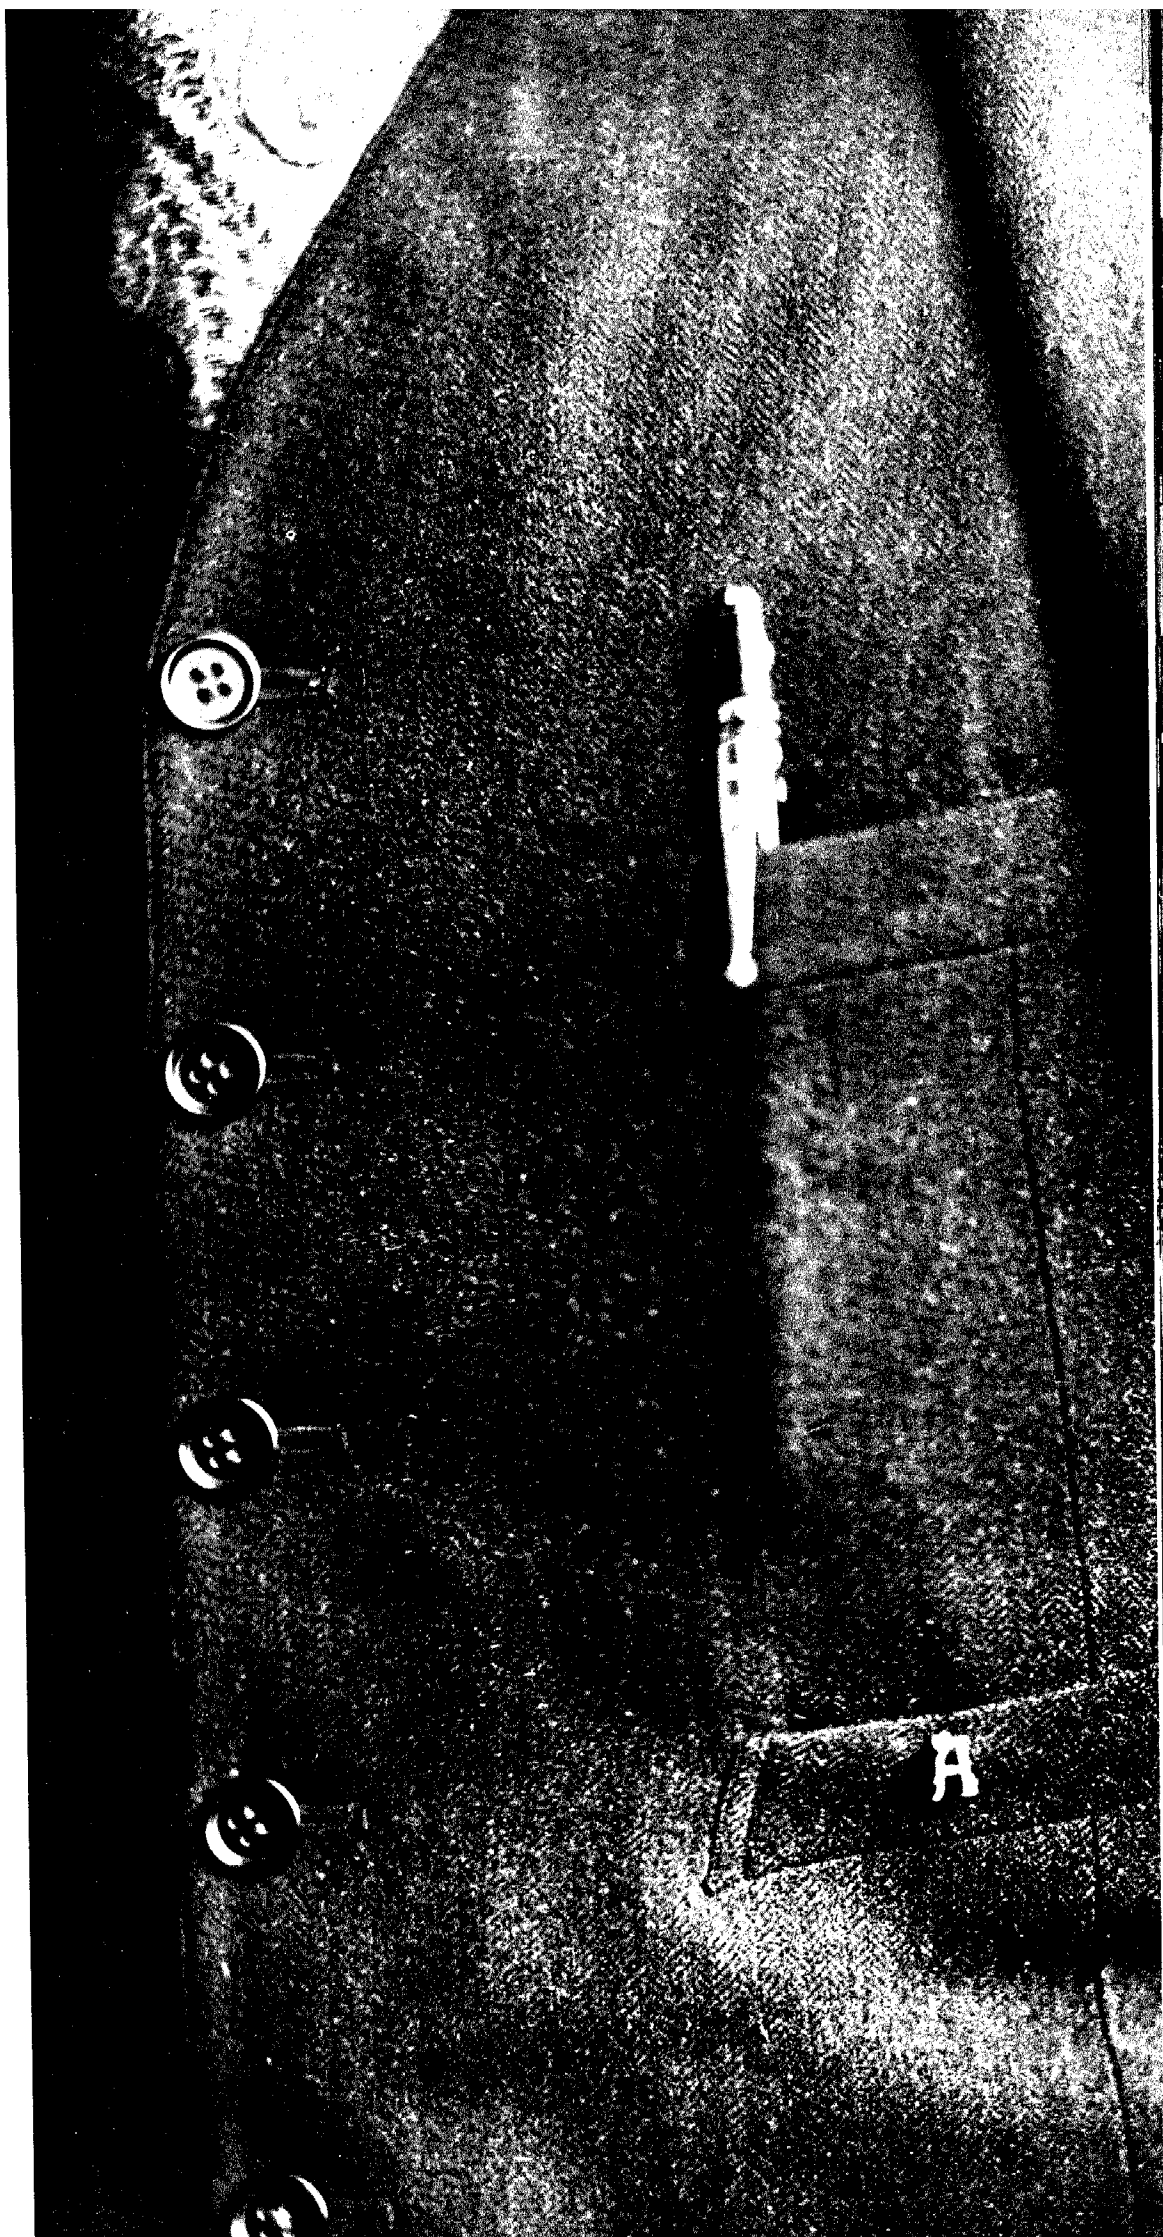

The hard work of the cast was well rewarded by excellent attendance at both performances. Pleasant memories of the delightful scenery, singing, dancing and dialogue so characteristic of Gilbert and Sullivan will live long in the minds of both spectator and performer.

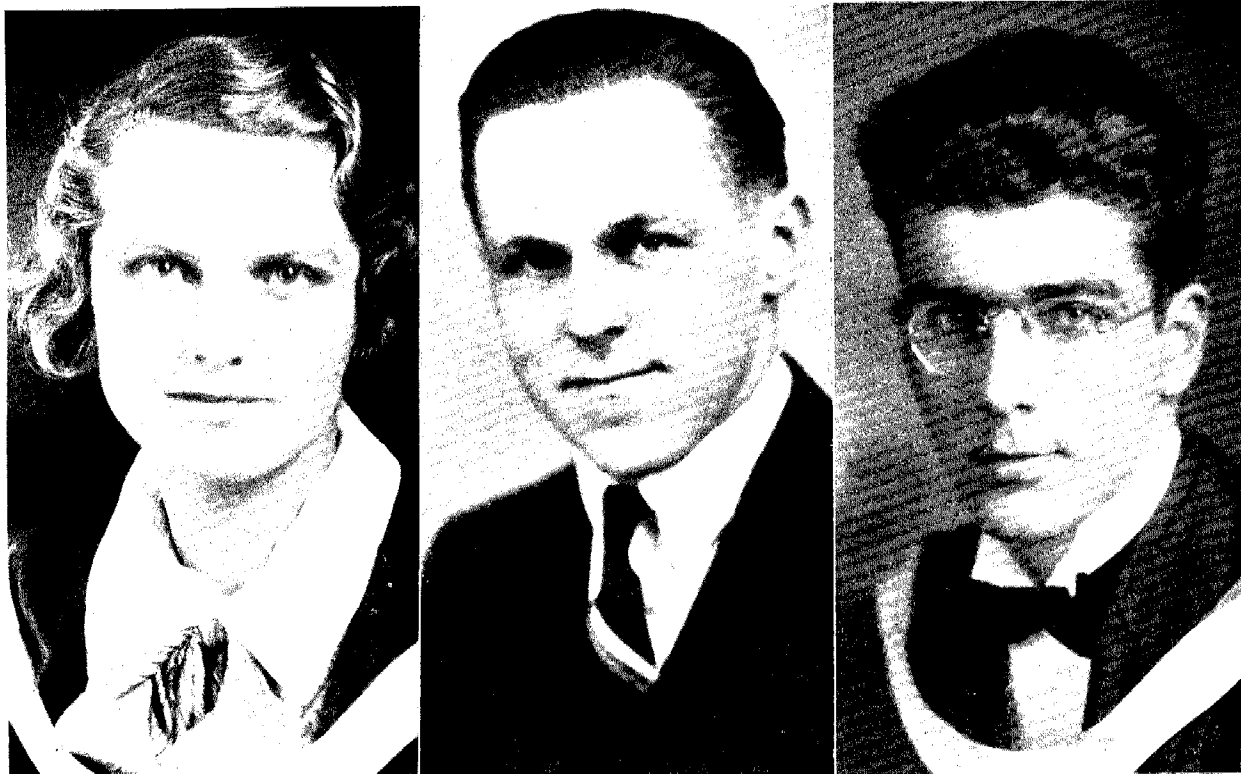

Miss Florence Clark as "Josephine" and Mr. Jacques Sylvestre as "Ralph Rackstraw" were excellently cast. "Sir Joseph Porter" was ably played by Mr. W. G. Stillman, and Mr. William Elliott as "Captain Corcoran" gave a convincing performance. "Little Buttercup" and "Dick Deadeye" played by Miss Lillian Bowley and Mr. R. G. Radcliffe were very popular with the audience.

The success of the production was largely due to the excellent accompaniment of the orchestra under Mr. Harry Prevey. It is to be hoped that the operettas of the future can maintain the high standard set by those of the past.

The selection of Donald Wilson, fourth year Medical student as this year's Rhodes Scholar, was most popular. As a scholar, athlete and man of the highest qualities, Don has gained the admiration of all who know him. We extend to him our sincerest wishes for even greater success at Oxford.

I.O.D.E. POST-GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP

The I.O.D.E. Scholarship for 1935 has been awarded to Elizabeth Carscallan, B.A., '33. A charming personality and remarkable gift of leadership won for Beth the office of President of the Wauneita Society for 1932-33. We are proud that this additional honor has come to her, and wish her continued success, abroad.

ELIZABETH IMRIE SCHOLARSHIP

Ralph Collins was awarded this scholarship for 1934. Ralph has always been keenly interested in the Literary Society, Dramatics, and Debating, and well deserved this honor. The scholarship entitled him to six weeks attendance at the Zimmern School of International Affairs and the assemblies of the League of Nations at Geneva.

WILSON TROPHY

Mr. Don Wilson has done the University an invaluable service by the presentation of this trophy. We extend to him our sincere thanks and the assurance that the cup already holds the very highest position in the estimation of the student body, and will always continue to do so.

To Mr. Len Park, our congratulations! There has never been the slightest doubt that he is the only logical and outstanding choice for this honor. We predict many years will pass before his achievements are even equalled. A long and illustrious rugby career, tempered at all times with gentlemanliness and sportsmanship, was crowned this year, when he was the only University man chosen on the All Western Canada Rugby Team.

LEN PARK

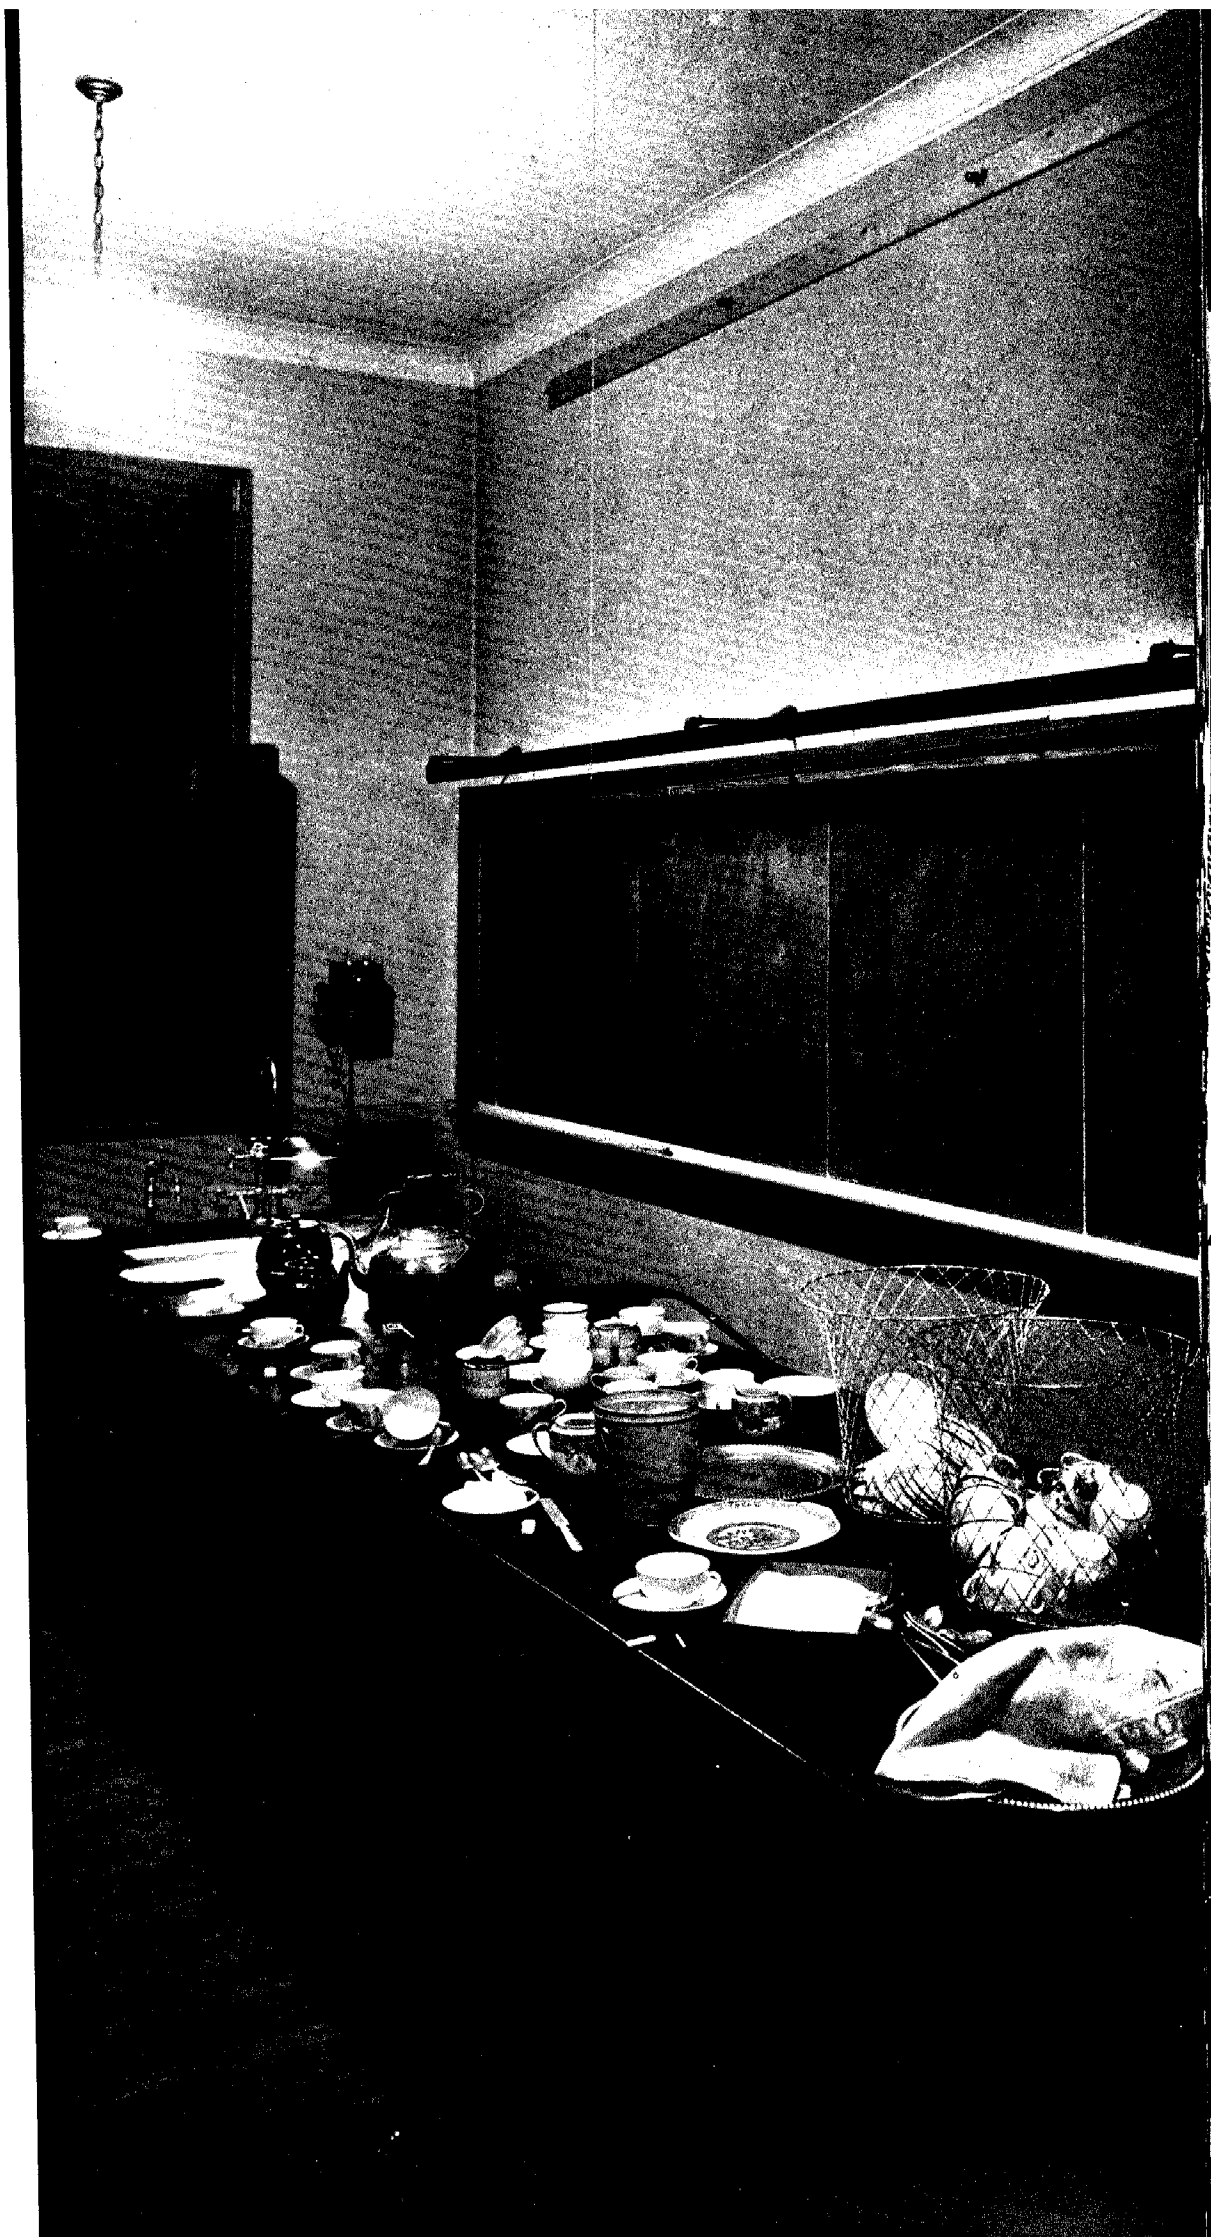

This trophy has been donated to the University to be awarded to the athlete who has, during his University athletic career, made the most outstanding contribution to Men's Athletics.

The basis of the award is in keeping with the qualifications for admittance to the Big Block Letter Club. It is hoped that it will stimulate a greater interest among athletes toward developing a keener appreciation of all that is held highest in the true character of the ideal athlete.

The trophy is to be awarded annually on the decision of the Awards Committee, and it is sincerely hoped that it will prove a successful institution.

FRED MILLER
PRESIDENT

The Agricultural Club has again terminated a successful year of activity. The new term was begun by a smoker held in St. Joseph's College.

Periodic meetings were held to hear such interesting speakers as James Murray, principal of the O.S.A. on the drought problem, Dr. J. M. MacEachran on rural philosophy, and E. W. Brundsen on the Marketing Act.

A new feature this year was an out-of-town debate by a team of "Aggies". The Discussion Group, one of the Club's special innovations, produced opportunities for heated expressions of opinions and for the development of surprisingly delicate oratory.

In the field of sports the Ags made a creditable showing. Ag-Arts-Law won the inter-faculty rugby championship, and our basketball team emerged victorious from the inter-faculty series.

Social functions were not to be neglected and several successful parties were held. The Honorable F. S. Grisdale spoke at the annual banquet at the Corona Hotel. This dinner brought the activities of the Club to a satisfactory climax.

The Club can certainly boast a year of varied and enjoyable activity. To the newcomers we extend the hope that they may find their task here pleasant as well as profitable; to our graduates we convey our heartiest wishes for success in the future.

BERNE KILLICK
PRESIDENT

The year 1934-35 has marked another milestone in the advancement of the Commerce Club. Under the capable direction of Mr. Winspear, Honorary President, the Executive, consisting of Berne Killick, Kay Norris, Bob Allsopp, Herrick Roche, John Polomark and Tommy Thompson, has shown itself to be an everflowing fountain of energy and initiative.

Bi-monthly luncheon meetings were inaugurated, and at these gatherings the Club was addressed by prominent Edmonton business men. The affiliation of the Club with the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce was a step forward in bringing the members into closer contact with the practical business world, as also were the visits to industrial concerns, in the operations of which the members manifested great interest.

Despite these many instructive activities the members found time to give vent to their lighter moods in social functions. Parties to suit every taste and fancy were held. Starting in the Fall with a party at Mr. Winspear's summer cottage at Cooking Lake, and ending with a sleigh ride, the social events lost none of their accustomed prominence amongst the activities of the Club.

At the close of the year's activities, the members feel that they have derived a great deal of benefit from the social and instructive activities of the Club.

PRESIDENT

With the public becoming "tooth conscious" and realizing more and more the intimate relation of teeth and health, the Department of Dentistry has, in the past two years, shown a considerable increase in the number of undergraduate students. Consequently, the Dental Club has flourished and enjoyed one of its most successful years.

The Dental Club has been fortunate in securing various speakers on both professional and other topics for its monthly meetings, which have also given the students an opportunity to become better acquainted. A feature not to be overlooked and influencing attendance of the meetings has been the excellent refreshments supplied by groups of students.

Other activities of the Club have included several informal social functions and the adoption of a Club pin, while, in Inter-faculty sports, the Dents have been represented by a hockey team which has occasionally been the woe, not only of other teams, but of the Dental Club itself.

Our best wishes go with the graduating class and their progress will be watched with interest. The large number of satisfied patients treated annually in the Clinic by the fourth year and graduating students gives evidence of scientific and careful work, setting a standard which undergraduates sincerely hope to attain.

DON CAMERON
PRESIDENT

The School of Education Society has had an enjoyable and profitable program of activities during the term 1934-35. Prominent educators have given us abundant food for thought; gay social functions, notable for an esprit de corps have enabled us to make many happy associations.

The teachers' training course in the School of Education has been duly chastening. We have discovered that the possession of a degree is not the only prerequisite for entering the teaching profession. We believe that we have at least caught a glimpse of the nobility of the fine art of teaching.

It is our hope that we have made a substantial beginning in equipping ourselves in methods and ideals so that we will be able to pass on something essential for life under the difficult conditions of today. We know that the gift of education makes life a fuller and happier experience—may it be our privilege to impart the truth to our future charges.

The desirability of more men and women entering the profession with a strong sense of vocation has been impressed upon us. Teachers who know that there is an art to be practised and an ideal to be adhered to are a crying need. When teachers unite with this common end in view, they will receive the honour and status which is due to them, for they will hold the keys to that fair land in which freedom is more than a name, and happiness is no will-o'-the-wisp!

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS CLUB

MARIANNE PEARSON
PRESIDENT

Household Economics students of the year 1934-35 watched with interest the discussion which took place in one Open Forum on the topic "Resolved that Woman's Place is in the Home". To them, it seemed slightly ironical that the resolution should be so ably upheld by two women law-students.

These clever orators maintained that the home is a woman's sphere, but not her circumference. That this is true has been proven by the wide and varied interests of the lowly "House Eccer". No longer can she be conceived of as doing nothing but toiling long weary hours in the chemistry lab or frittering away her time learning to sew a fine seam.

We find one House Eccer who is the manager of the Women's Hockey Team—the first team for many years to acquire the habit of scoring goals; one very prominent goal scorer of this team is also an House Eccer; another is the manager of Women's Track, and is no mean sprinter and jumper herself; not to mention two prominent badminton stars, and a swimming champion.

Nor are the members of this club confined to prowess in athletics. We could defy anyone to equal the scholastic average of a certain shining member of our Graduating Class. And then, there are the never-to-be-forgotten executive positions in the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes as well as in the far-famed Wauneta Society.

The activities of the club have been varied and numerous. The chief features were the party and the annual banquet held in Athabasca Lounge. Outside speakers have helped to make meetings more interesting. One of these speakers, Captain Robert Pearson chose to speak on the movie industry in Hollywood for, as he put it, "Hollywood is the world of make-believe, and House Eccers spend all their time trying to make the world believe that they can work."

The Medical Club, the official organ of the faculty, in keeping with the times has completed a most successful year. The meetings, held monthly, have kept up their remarkable standard of entertainment, and good attendance and very interesting speakers have been the result.

Nor on the social side has there been any lagging. The Med Ball and the Annual Banquet were exceptionally well attended, not only by the students themselves but by members of the faculty and over-town doctors.

The Club this year made its first valuable contribution to the Vango Memorial, which is to take the form of a pathological museum.

To keep up the standard of preceding years has been the chief aim of this one. It is hoped that it has been successful and that following years may even surpass the Club of 1935.

RALPH MAYBANK
PRESIDENT

Supported by a great many enthusiastic members, the Pharmacy Club of 1934-35 was able to start the season with an excellent programme.

At all times the Executive was a veritable powerplant of surprises. It decided to appeal to the ears and to the appetite simultaneously. Dinners with a sing-song were monthly features. Then lest professional activity be forgotten, guest speakers with interesting modern topics were introduced. The Annual Banquet, at the Macdonald, surpassed its usual height of success. Dances both formal and informal were also arranged.

The Club owes much of its success to the unfailing co-operation of Professor A. W. Matthews. Under his direct supervision, the Pharmacy Display, a novel feature, met with well deserved success. His drive to promote a spirit of co-operation amongst Doctors, Pharmacists and Students should receive our congratulatory remarks as well as our entire support.

Class '35 looks back upon a year full of success and happy associations. For some, the embryo pill makers, the year holds no regrets. For sixteen others the days of apprenticeship and training are over, and duty calls them to fields wherein their knowledge and experience will be utilized in a professional service to mankind. We hope that our Province of rugged simplicity, beauty and harmony holds much in store for them.

Farewell then!

LAW CLASS

ED MCCORMICK
PRESIDENT

It requires the greatest audacity to attempt to write of the Law Class of 1935 or to give even a faint description of its character in so brief a space—so difficult indeed is the task, that it is like sketching “a chameleon upon a postage stamp”. It has been a class distinguished for its exceptional ability in many fields besides that of the academic. Being composed of such varied and interesting personalities, the result can only be that where there are so many facets, a new study at a fresh angle inevitably and always suggests a new conclusion. They have been like Odysseus—men of many devices.

Such prodigies can never be bounded or restricted by a profession and the result of their flash across the political heavens has been that they have descended upon student government and have swept all before them. Indeed, their regime has been so successful that to many a discomfited opponent who has found himself outside the sacred precincts of the Law Library, they have been regarded as the “bete noir” of student politics. Their spirit of initiative has been equally great as evidenced by the publication of the “Alberta Law Quarterly” which has already become a creditable contribution to legal literature. Nor should one neglect to mention that spirit of reform which caused a change from cream to scarlet Lords—a last reminder of the floridity of the Taurian tradition—and last of all there was the Undergraduates’ Ball whose success was so great that even the most staid became supporters of the dance of Mimes and cavorted with the “bar”.

Our only hope is that the memory of this remarkable class will not have left those behind with too great a “damnosa hereditas”.

L'annee qui vient de s'ecouler marque une date importante dans l'histoire deja si longue du Cercle Francais. Pour la premiere fois depuis sa fondation le Cercle a ete place entierement sous la direction des etudiants. Notre jeune president Mr. E. Greene, assist de la charmante surchaire Mlle. Sutherland, s'est montre a la hauteur de sa tache; son fin sourire, son humour ainsi que son francais impeccable ont fortement aide a creer l'atmosphere necessaire au succes de nos reunions.

Le programme presente aux membres du Cercle etait fort varie et des plus interessants, et les etudiants des differentes classes ont contribue au succes de ce programme.

Des causeries interessantes sur les sujets les plus varies ont ete donnees par M. Shortliffe, M. Jacobs, Dr. Sonet, Bro. Memorian, M. de Savoye et Dr. Kerr. Mais ce sont les etudiants eux-memes qui ont pris la part la plus active dans l'execution du programme presente. De vieilles chansons francaises, de petites comedies improvisees par les etudiants, un repertoire de musique classique ont fait le charme de l'auditoire.

Il ne nous reste qu'a exprimer un voeu; que la nouvelle tradition etablie cette annee se poursuive avec le meme brillant success dans les annees a venir.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

W. J. COLLETT
PRESIDENT

Two facts justify the existence of a religious movement on a University Campus. In the first place, religious thought is constantly changing in the light of modern studies. A University needs to be abreast of the times in this field as well as in others. Secondly, the conviction is growing that Jesus of Nazareth has a message for the modern world. Hence the life of Jesus must be re-examined by means of the historical and critical approach, so that its meaning will be apparent to all.

From the study of the Records, the S.C.M. is led into a study of world problems. Challenging leadership has always been the fortunate lot of the Movement. The local Faculty has been inexhaustible in supplying our needs. We have been fortunate this year in securing leadership from outside points. Among our visitors were the National S.C.M. Secretaries, Beverley Oaten and Margaret Kinney; Dr. Willard Brewing of Vancouver; Mr. Gilbert Baker of London, England; Miss E. Law of Toronto, and Rev. Chas. Young of India.

And so ends another year, with its encouragements and disappointments. It is voted by all as a most successful one. The year will close with Spring Camp after exams, pointing forward to another year of progress.

General Topic, 1934-35: "Social Systems and Social Changes."

E. A. Corbett: Ivar Kreuger and the concentration of power.

"Early in May, 1912, a group of students and faculty anxious for the formation of a philosophical society, met and appointed a committee to take steps to make that society an accomplished fact."

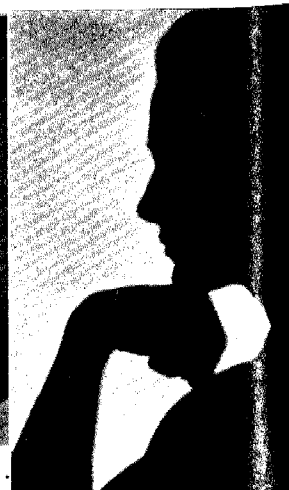

This modest statement, which appears in the beginning of the Philosophical Society's minute book, is, in effect, similar to that more spectacular one made by Francis Bacon when he said that he had taken all knowledge to be his province and hoped to bring in "industrious observations, grounded conclusions, and profitable inventions and discoveries". For that would seem to have been the unavowed aim of the philosophical society, and the titles of the subjects discussed in the last twenty-three years show how widely it has roamed through Bacon's province. Music, science, history, journalism, politics, art, literature have all been explored—everything in fact, from Insect Social Life to Drifting Continents and Fashions in Villains.

And now in 1934-35, direction has been given to our explorations, one department of the province has been singled out for our special attention. All the subjects dealt with this year have had a bearing on the general topic, "Social Systems and Social Changes". "Industrious observations" have been made by the speakers; and we may hope that "grounded conclusions" have been reached by the presentation of various points of view and their free discussion in the meetings, for surely never had any sphere of thought greater need to be purged of "frivolous disputations, confutations and verbosities" of "blind experiments and auricular traditions and impostures".

In short, the past season has been a most successful one. Interest in the papers has been keen and the membership large. Out of the surplus of $200, it is proposed to award prizes of $100, $50, and $25 in a repetition of last year's essay competition for undergraduates, with the aim of further stimulating clear thought and coherent expression.

Our thanks are due to Dr. Aamodt for his able presidency, we add our regret that he is leaving the University of Alberta; our good wishes go with him to Wisconsin.

Prosperity is here at last; the Mining and Geological Society has had a bumper year, as the membership has reached a peak for all times. Held every two weeks, meetings have had large attendance, with more and better cake at each one.

Papers have been given on subjects of interest to all. Among them were the following: Turner Valley, Development of British Columbia Nickel, Past Mining Trips, Mining Industry of Canada, Diamond Industry of South Africa, Palaeontology of Dinosaurs, and a motion picture dealing with the Petroleum Industry of Alberta.

A memorial meeting was held towards the end of the year, in honor of Dr. D. B. Dowling and an account of his work in the Cascade Coal Basin was given.

One of the high-lights of the year was a smoker given by the Northern Alberta branch of the C.I.M. & M. Needless to say, it was a real night.

The Society thanks Dr. Allan, our Honorary President, and other members of the Faculty for their efforts and advice which have made our year so successful.

This spring the Daleth Ayin Beth Club, more commonly known as the Economics Club, looks back on six seasons of activity. It was founded on January 10, 1930, by a group of students interested in economic discussion.

The papers presented during the past season have reflected the current interest in pertinent economic questions of today.

This year for the first time the Economics Club has attained an object looked forward to for several years, that is the presentation of a prize to the student obtaining the highest standing in Political Economy I. This prize will be available for the first time this spring.

OSLER CLUB

The Osler Club is composed solely of the members of the graduating class in Medicine. The original purpose of the Club was to perpetuate the memory of Sir William Osler, the great Canadian physician, and it emphasizes the discussion of pathological subjects, case histories and historical essays.

The large membership of this year's class necessitated the division of the Club into two groups, which met alternately each week. Many interesting papers dealing with the latest trends in medical thought, have been presented by the students. On one occasion a short historical sketch was given.

The highlight of our season was a banquet which was held in the Corona Hotel, at which Dr. E. P. Scarlett of Calgary, delivered an interesting and instructive address on "Satira Medica".

The variety of the excellent papers and subjects presented has not only made the year of 1934-35 a most successful one, but it has also been one of great interest and value to the final year Medical students.

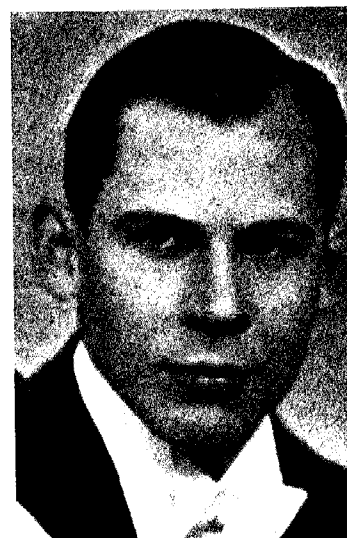

POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB

Canada's Political future throws out a stimulating challenge for liberty and leadership. Party leaders are searching for a technique that will adapt their own particular partisan philosophy to the demands of the day, without risking dictatorship, or a revolution in the social order. The Political Science Club attempts to place before the student today the fundamental political ideas of the moment. Outstanding exponents of each partisan political philosophy address the club, which endeavors to hold monthly meetings.

The speakers chosen this year have discussed in thought-provoking fashion the tendency toward social reform and the ever increasing government interference with business affairs. The aims and fundamentals of socialism and of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation were brilliantly presented. The problems of government were brought forcibly to our attention. We are now beginning to vision the intimate connection between politics and economics. We have seen firm and benevolent legatees of the economic institutions which our forefathers have bequeathed us, beginning to question the value of the legacy. Capitalism must be reformed. It must wear the socialist step-ins of the time.

The Political Science Club has grown from the infant status of a small discussion group, to an organization embracing within its membership the whole student body. It is to be hoped that it will be so managed and developed as to give to the student a clearer perspective and a better grasp of the game of politics.

The general achievement in Athletics during the season of 1934-35 is worthy of special mention in the annals of the University of Alberta.

The impact of rugby set a pace for other sports throughout the year. The track team travelling to Saskatoon for the Inter-collegiate meet, lost out by only two points.

The hockey team entered the Intermediate league and succeeded in reaching the Northern Alberta semi-finals. Basketball fans were never disappointed in the style of play exhibited by our team although the scores of the games were not very encouraging.

Boxing and wrestling staged another very successful meet this year. In swimming, tennis, golf and soccer, a genuine spirit of enthusiasm carried them through an equally successful season with other sports.

A very efficient and co-operative executive has helped to make 1934-35 a most successful year for women's athletics. The definite return of Inter-collegiate sport to the campus has been a great asset to us, it being almost the only tie between the students of the Western Universities, who in these times tend to become more and more isolated.

In practically all branches of the Women's Athletics a most gratifying improvement has been shown over former years.

Much of our success can also be attributed to our excellent coaches and a large and highly-interested membership.

THE ROOTERS CLUB

Special efforts were made this year to encourage the students to support our sports activities and to let our athletes know we are behind them.

The Rooters Club took no mean part in these efforts. We not only turned out men who knew how to lead our yells most vigorously, but we turned out two teams of such men.

Hugh Arnold was the leader of one team, and much of the success of the season was due to his help—as only Hugh Arnold can help.

Members of the club were present at all Pep Rallies, to show the new students how it should be done, and some new actions were introduced to speed up some of our yells.

A full team of cheer leaders was out at every rugby game last fall and the students certainly did support us. People in Leduc complained of the noise, but they did know we had a winning team! The individual efforts of the members of the club before the games, raised the enthusiasm of the student body to great heights.

The first team: Hugh Arnold, leader; Al East and Chuck Hemmings; the “third-year-Med team”.

The second team: Phil Pepper, leader; Glover Taylor and Dick Stapells.

THE TRAINERS CLUB

No doubt numerous young ladies have wondered, after a hard practise or game, just where the distinctive aroma in the vicinity of their athletic heroes comes from. The secret is out at last! It is wintergreen liniment, and the Trainers Club is responsible.

This season has been a most successful one, as this year the Men's Trainers Club has been enlarged to include eight members. Four of these are going into sixth year medicine next year, leaving openings for several enthusiastic masseurs. The club is far from being dispensable. It adds much to the comfort of the athletes by massage and first aid services in cases of injury. We had more emergency practise than we wished for, due mostly to the rugby players. Hugh Arnold specialized in basketball cases, and the others have taken their turns in rugby, hockey and soccer. We have also enjoyed occasional trips with the hockey and rugby teams.

The Women's Trainers Club has come into existence just this year. At present there are only two members, Dorothy Barnhouse and Evelyn Aiello. We sincerely hope that this excellent work which has been started will be continued in future years.

SENIOR RUGBY

Even at the beginning of the rugby season all indications seemed to point to a banner year for Varsity.

Our young coach of the previous year, Alan Wilson, was due to return early for intensive pre-season training. Sixteen of last year's squad had signified their intentions of returning and playing. With justifiable pride we note that not one of the players was ineligible because of deficiencies in studies.

In Calgary before the middle of September a group of players were working out nightly—an unheard of precedent. At Varsity by the eighteenth a full squad was practising twice a day. With the opening of the University at the end of the month interest in rugby was at a fever pitch. A practice game between two picked teams of Varsity players was scheduled for September 29th. The night before, a big pep-rally was broadcast from Convocation Hall.

This year the Alberta Provincial League included the Calgary Altomahs—perennial champions under the astute Pete Sande, former mentor of Calgary's Western Canada Junior Champions; the Lethbridge Bulldogs—a new entry under an American import, Dave Stori, All Conference end from Minnesota; and Varsity's Golden Bears.

BULLDOGS

Our first game took us travelling—to Lethbridge for October 6th, and to Calgary for the 8th, Varsity electrified the student body and fans in general by winning both games by scores of 6 - 1 and 6 - 3 respectively.

Entertaining Lethbridge here on the 13th the team was again successful in winning by a score of 13 - 5. Calgary had already won their first game with Lethbridge by 22 - 5 and the Bulldogs had defaulted their second encounter. Thus the Altomahs met Varsity in Edmonton on October 20th, with the championship at stake. The struggle was thrill-packed. Varsity emerged by an 18 - 8 score, Alberta champions. The first time since 1925!

The Vancouver Meraloma team had won the B.C. title. They were Varsity's next opponents. Two games were played in Vancouver, one Thursday, November 1, at night, and the other on Saturday, November 3rd. The Meralomas won 5 - 0 and 8 - 6 on a field that was inches deep in mud.

Next Monday, November 5th, the Bears tackled their old rivals, the University of British Columbia in a sudden death game for possession of the Hardy Cup. Wading through four hectic periods, Alberta Varsity won by a score of 11 - 2 to reclaim the trophy for the first time since 1928.

Scarcely having returned home, and still weary, the Bears, no longer Golden due to the Vancouver mud, met the University of Saskatchewan Huskies on November 10th. In defense of their newly won trophy Alberta Varsity widely out-played their opponents for three and a half periods; the score was 2 - 0. But the Bears were beaten by a final rally, which through the medium of two beautiful passing plays, brought Saskatchewan twelve points, the game and the trophy.

Varsity 6, Lethbridge Bulldogs 3

Playing against Lethbridge's unknown quantity on a sweltering afternoon Varsity showed surprising strength but lack of a scoring punch. The Bulldogs scored first on a nicely executed field goal in the first quarter. In the final play of the opening half Varsity took the lead with a forward pass across the goal line for a touchdown which was unconverted. A rouge in the second half completed the scoring and gave Varsity the game.

Varsity 6, Calgary Altomahs 1

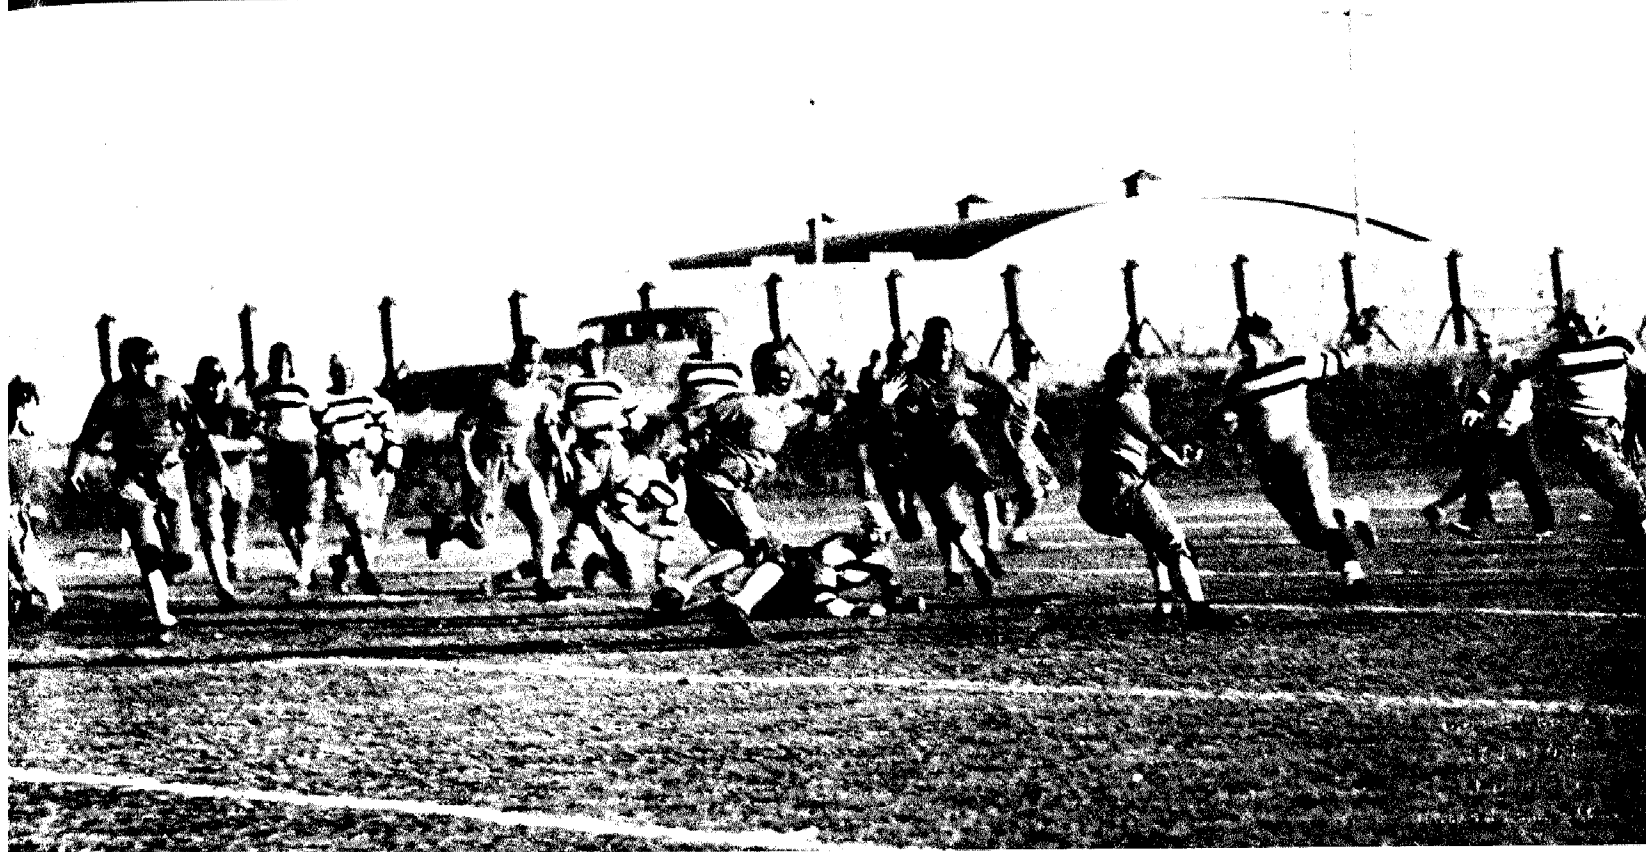

On Thanksgiving Day, playing against a team which they had not beaten in Calgary for years, Varsity played probably their best defensive game of the season to win at 6-1. A field goal and two single points in the first half and another rouge in the second made up Varsity's score.

A last period drive by Calgary carried the ball to Varsity's one yard line but a stubborn Bear defense saved the day.

VAR SITY 13, BULL DOGS 5

Thirsting for revenge, the Bulldogs took the field and proceeded to startle Varsity supporters by scoring almost immediately on a fumbled punt. This touchdown was unconverted. Varsity tied the score at 5 all in this half with a field goal and two single points. The final half was stubbornly contested until a single point and a converted touchdown from an intercepted forward pass gave Varsity a 13 - 5 victory.

VAR SITY 18, ALTOM A H S 8

With the championship at stake Varsity played aggressively and scored quickly on a fumbled punt. Two rouges by Calgary and one by Varsity made the half time score 6 - 2. In the third quarter Calgary got another single point. In the last quarter an Altomah fumble led to another Varsity touchdown. A drive by Calgary netted them a touchdown, followed by a single point for Varsity. On the final play of the game Calgary gambled on a long pass which was intercepted by Morton who ran back ninety yards for a touchdown. This 18 - 8 victory gave the Golden Bears the provincial title.

Varsity 0, Vancouver Meralomas 5

Playing in Vancouver against the Meralomas, Varsity was defeated in the opening encounter of the inter-provincial series by a score of 5 - 0. The game was played in a sea of mud which was indeed a serious handicap to the gridders, while they put up a game struggle. For three quarters the game remained scoreless, the Meralomas, more familiar with conditions, serving up a sensational form of running attack. Varsity was forced to be content with a defensive game which proved effective until the last quarter when the Meralomas scored the only touchdown of the game.

VARSITY 6, MERALOMAS 8

Still not quite at home in the mud, but playing a stronger game than on their first appearance, Varsity again bowed to the Meralomas 8 - 6. Varsity scored on a power play after a Meraloma fumble had given them the ball on the one yard line. This was followed later by a rouge. All of the Meraloma points resulted from kicks.

VARSITY 11, UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA 2

Determined not to return home without one victory to their credit Varsity took the field against the U.B.C. Thunderbirds and turned in a win of 11 - 2. In the opening minutes of the game the Thunderbirds unleashed an attack which drove the Bears deep into their own territory but a last minute stand forced the coast team to kick for a single point. After this preliminary set back the Bears forced the pace and soon scored a touchdown off a blocked kick. Again U.B.C. launched a terrific attack which was held at bay. Varsity, gaining possession of the ball, kicked immediately to relieve the pressure and a B.C. halfback fumbled the punt which was picked up by Malcolm and run fifty yards for Varsity's second touchdown. A single point for each team completed the scoring.

Returning home mud-stained and weary, but with the Hardy Cup newly won from the University of British Columbia, the Bears defended the trophy against the challenge of the Saskatchewan Huskies. Playing their fourth game in ten days a plainly superior though lack-lustre Bear squad had a lead of 2-0 with play in the fourth quarter. An intercepted forward pass, followed by a pass over the goal line gave the Huskies an unconverted touchdown to make the score 5-2. Fired by their success and gambling to win, Saskatchewan on an identical play scored another touchdown which this time was converted. A rouge followed this to give the Huskies the game, the trophy, and the 1934 Inter-collegiate championship by a score of 12-2. This was the final game of the season.

Although nothing sensational was accomplished by the senior hockey team this year, the season was a success from the standpoint of quality of play.

The team was composed of a nucleus of veterans with a considerable sprinkling of newcomers among whom Bill Stark, Tim Canty and Jack Dunlap were most prominent. "Duke" Ferguson was particularly outstanding last year and the team was well served by Bill Scott, Bob Cruickshank, Jack Talbot, and Ralph Maybank. Coached by Alan Wilson, the squad showed greatest strength in defensive departments.

Entered in the local senior league against the Superiors and Dominions, the campus players were faced with superior opposition all season but never failed to demonstrate unfailing courage and the well-known Alberta do-or-die spirit. On being eliminated from senior company after Christmas, the Varsity team entered the intermediate playdowns. Considerable progress was made with Leduc and Lacombe being eliminated by the Collegians.

The campus men, however, met their nemesis in a strong Vegreville team which ultimately carried Alberta standards in interprovincial playdowns.

With no intercollegiate competition being played, the U. of A. team retained the Halpenny trophy, emblematic of western conference championship, which was won in a series with the University of Saskatchewan the preceding year.

Another season of women's hockey has been finished, but this time an outstanding one. Although not successful at winning games, it was quite successful in that we were not forced to bow to any discreditable scores.

The Intermediate league this year was limited to the Muttart Orioles from overtown and the Varsity team. This did not provide varied competition, but games were exciting. We tied two and lost two by one or two goals.

Then as in former years, the Gateway Bullies challenged us and just managed to gain the long end of the score!

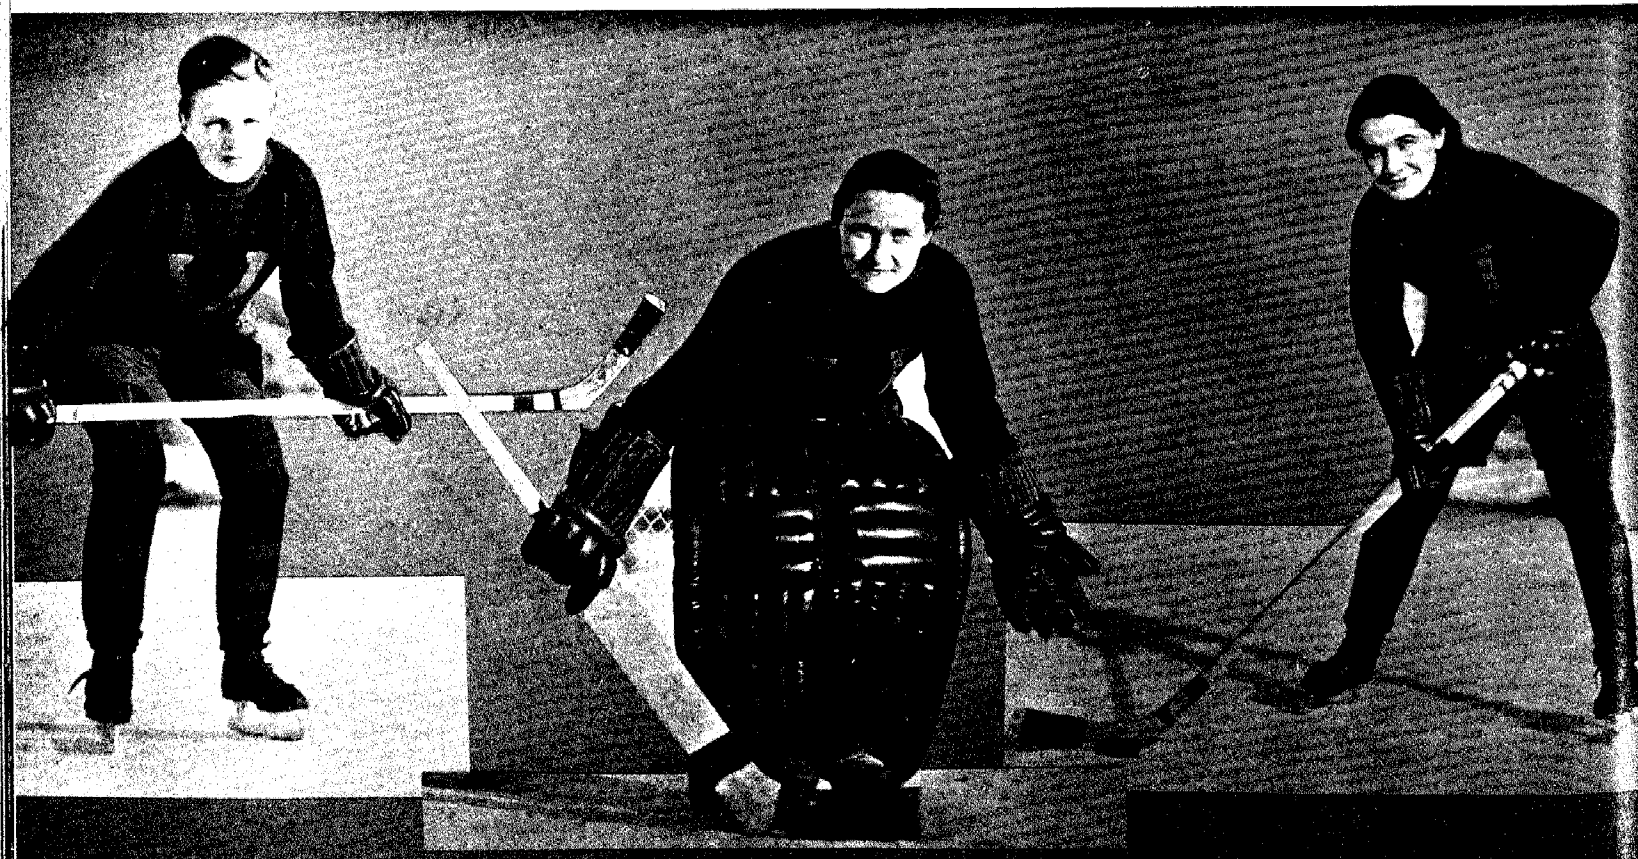

Even the fans gave us a little more support this winter and we think they enjoyed the battles put up by their co-eds.

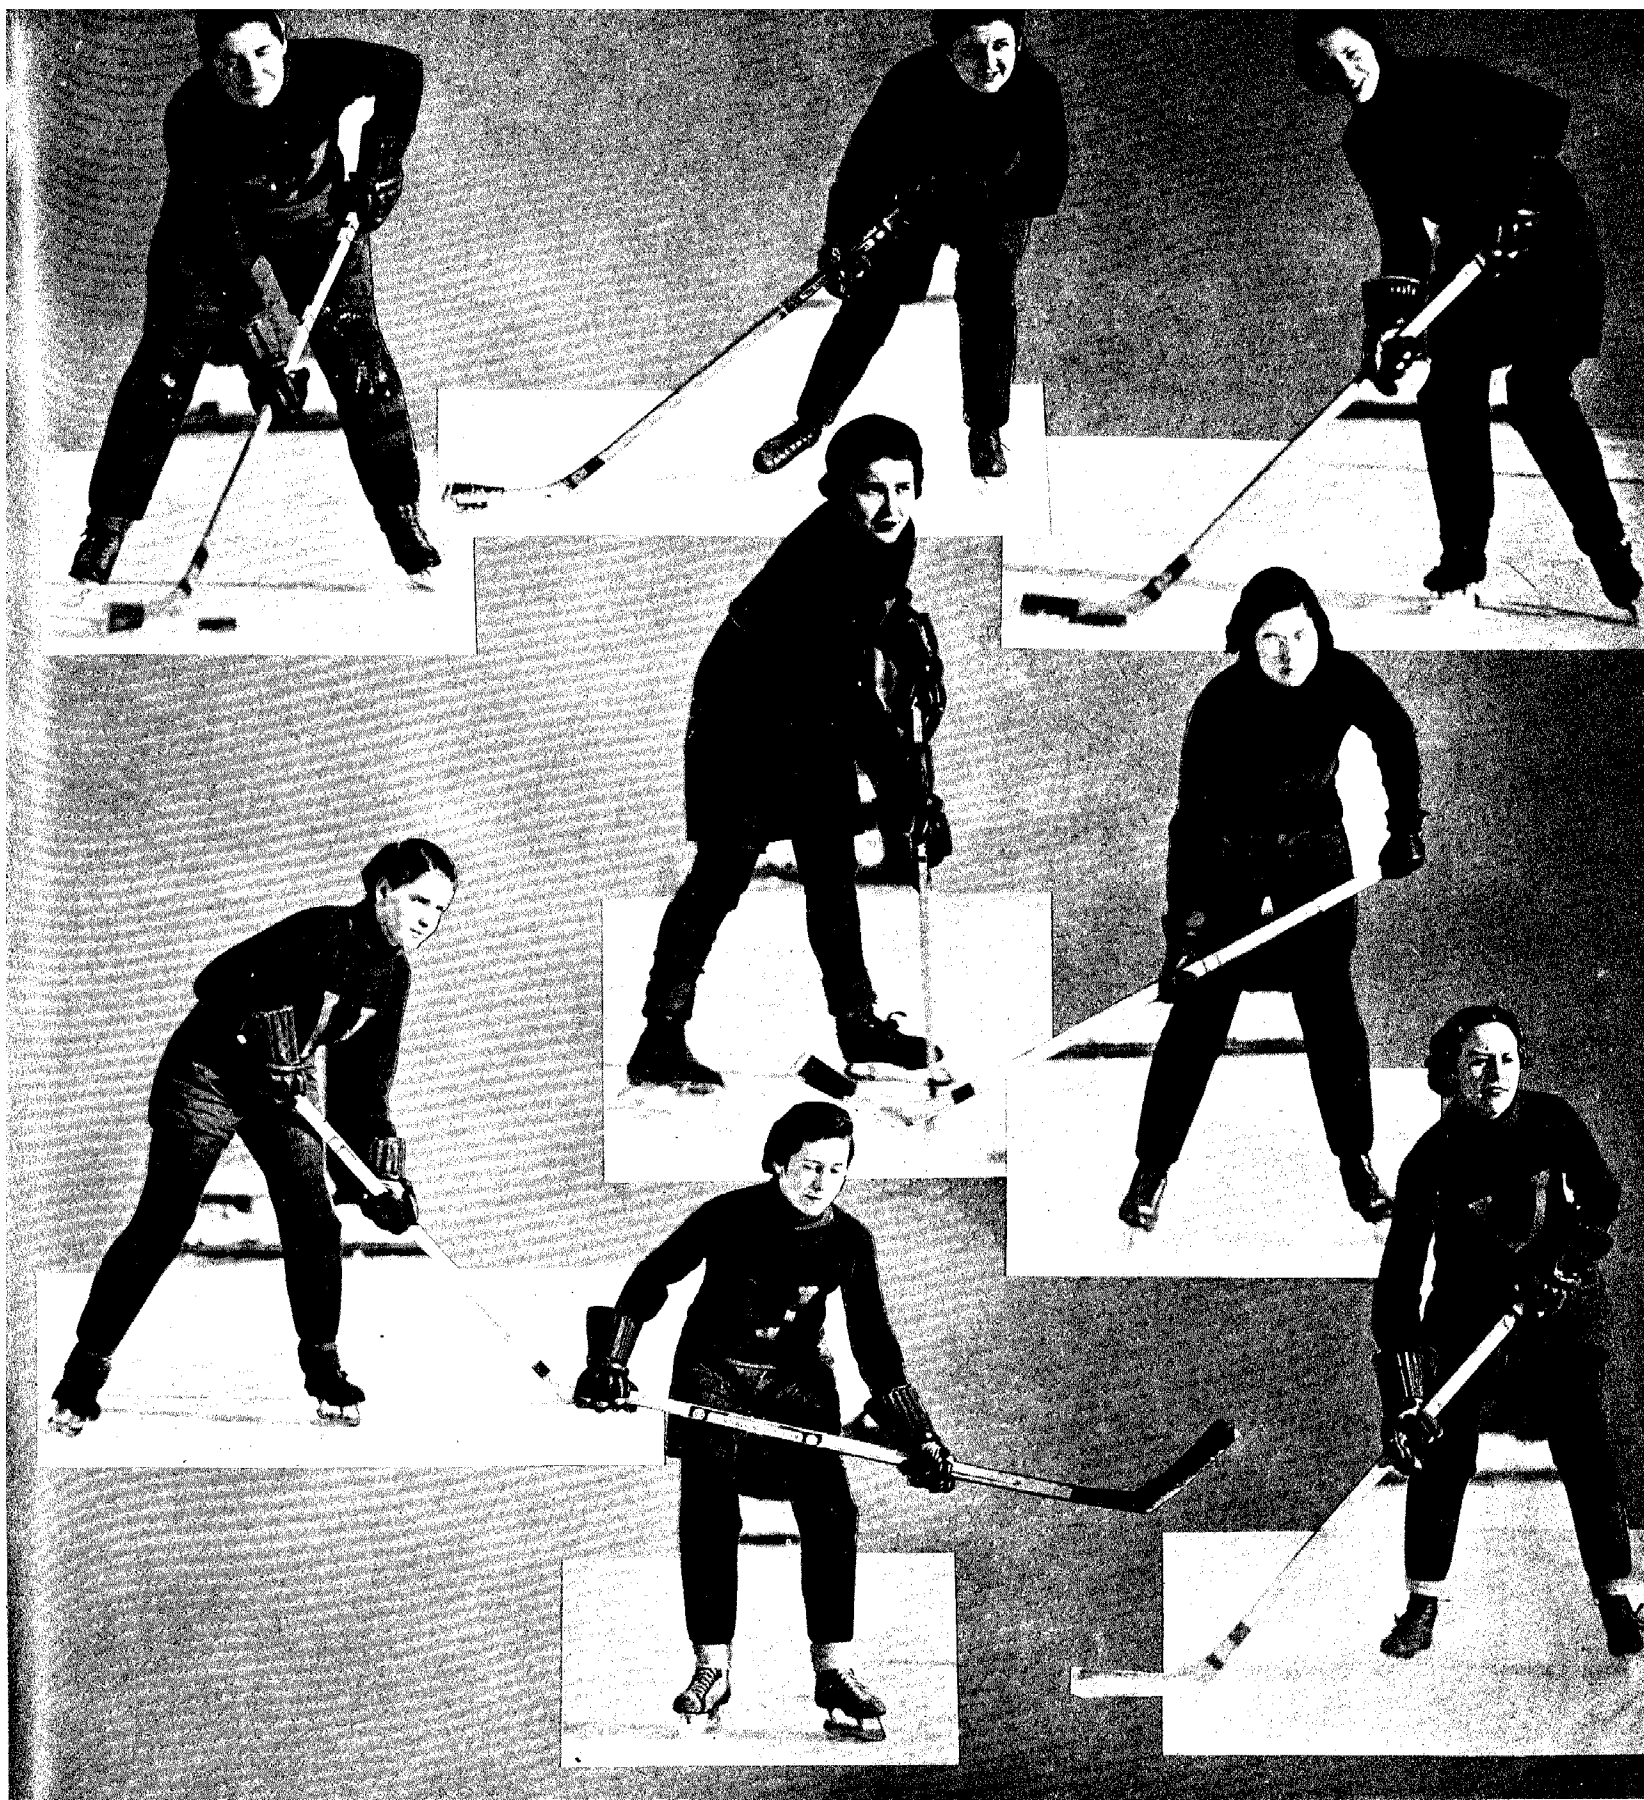

A great deal of the credit is due to Al Wilson, our coach for the increased interest in Women's Hockey.

The basketball teams this year, ably piloted by Coach Doug McIntyre, former University of British Columbia star, made a remarkable showing considering the high calibre of the experienced teams against which they played. Although the results were not all that had been hoped for, they played exceedingly well, and on most occasions the last few seconds of the playing time were left to decide the winning team.

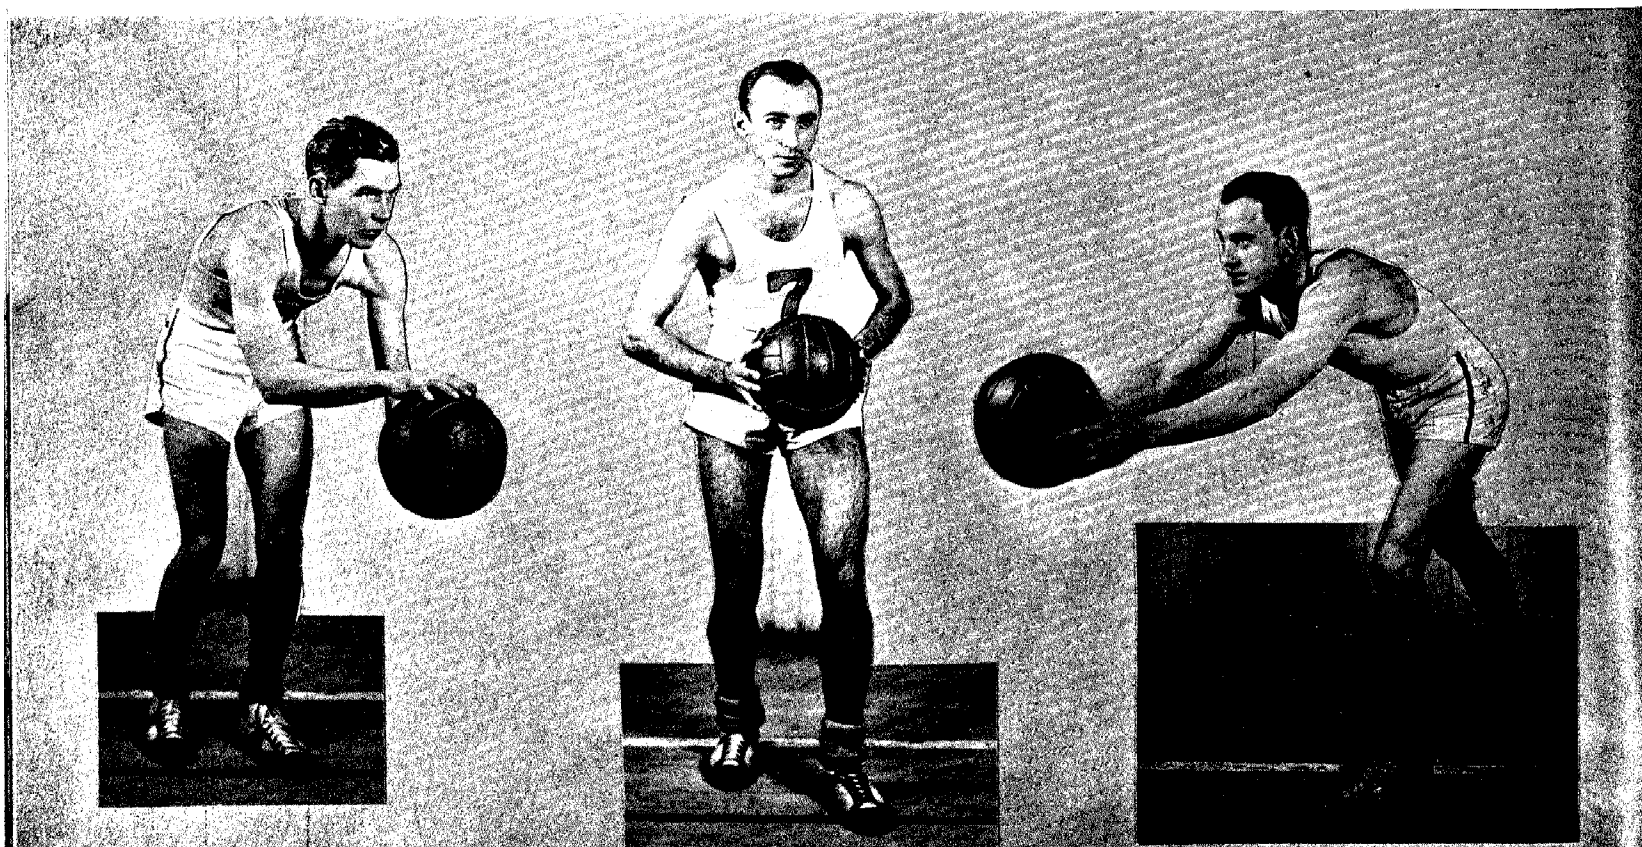

The Intermediate team played a good brand of game, although it is regrettable that in order to give the senior squad more time and coaching, much of the attention which the intermediates should have had, was wanting.

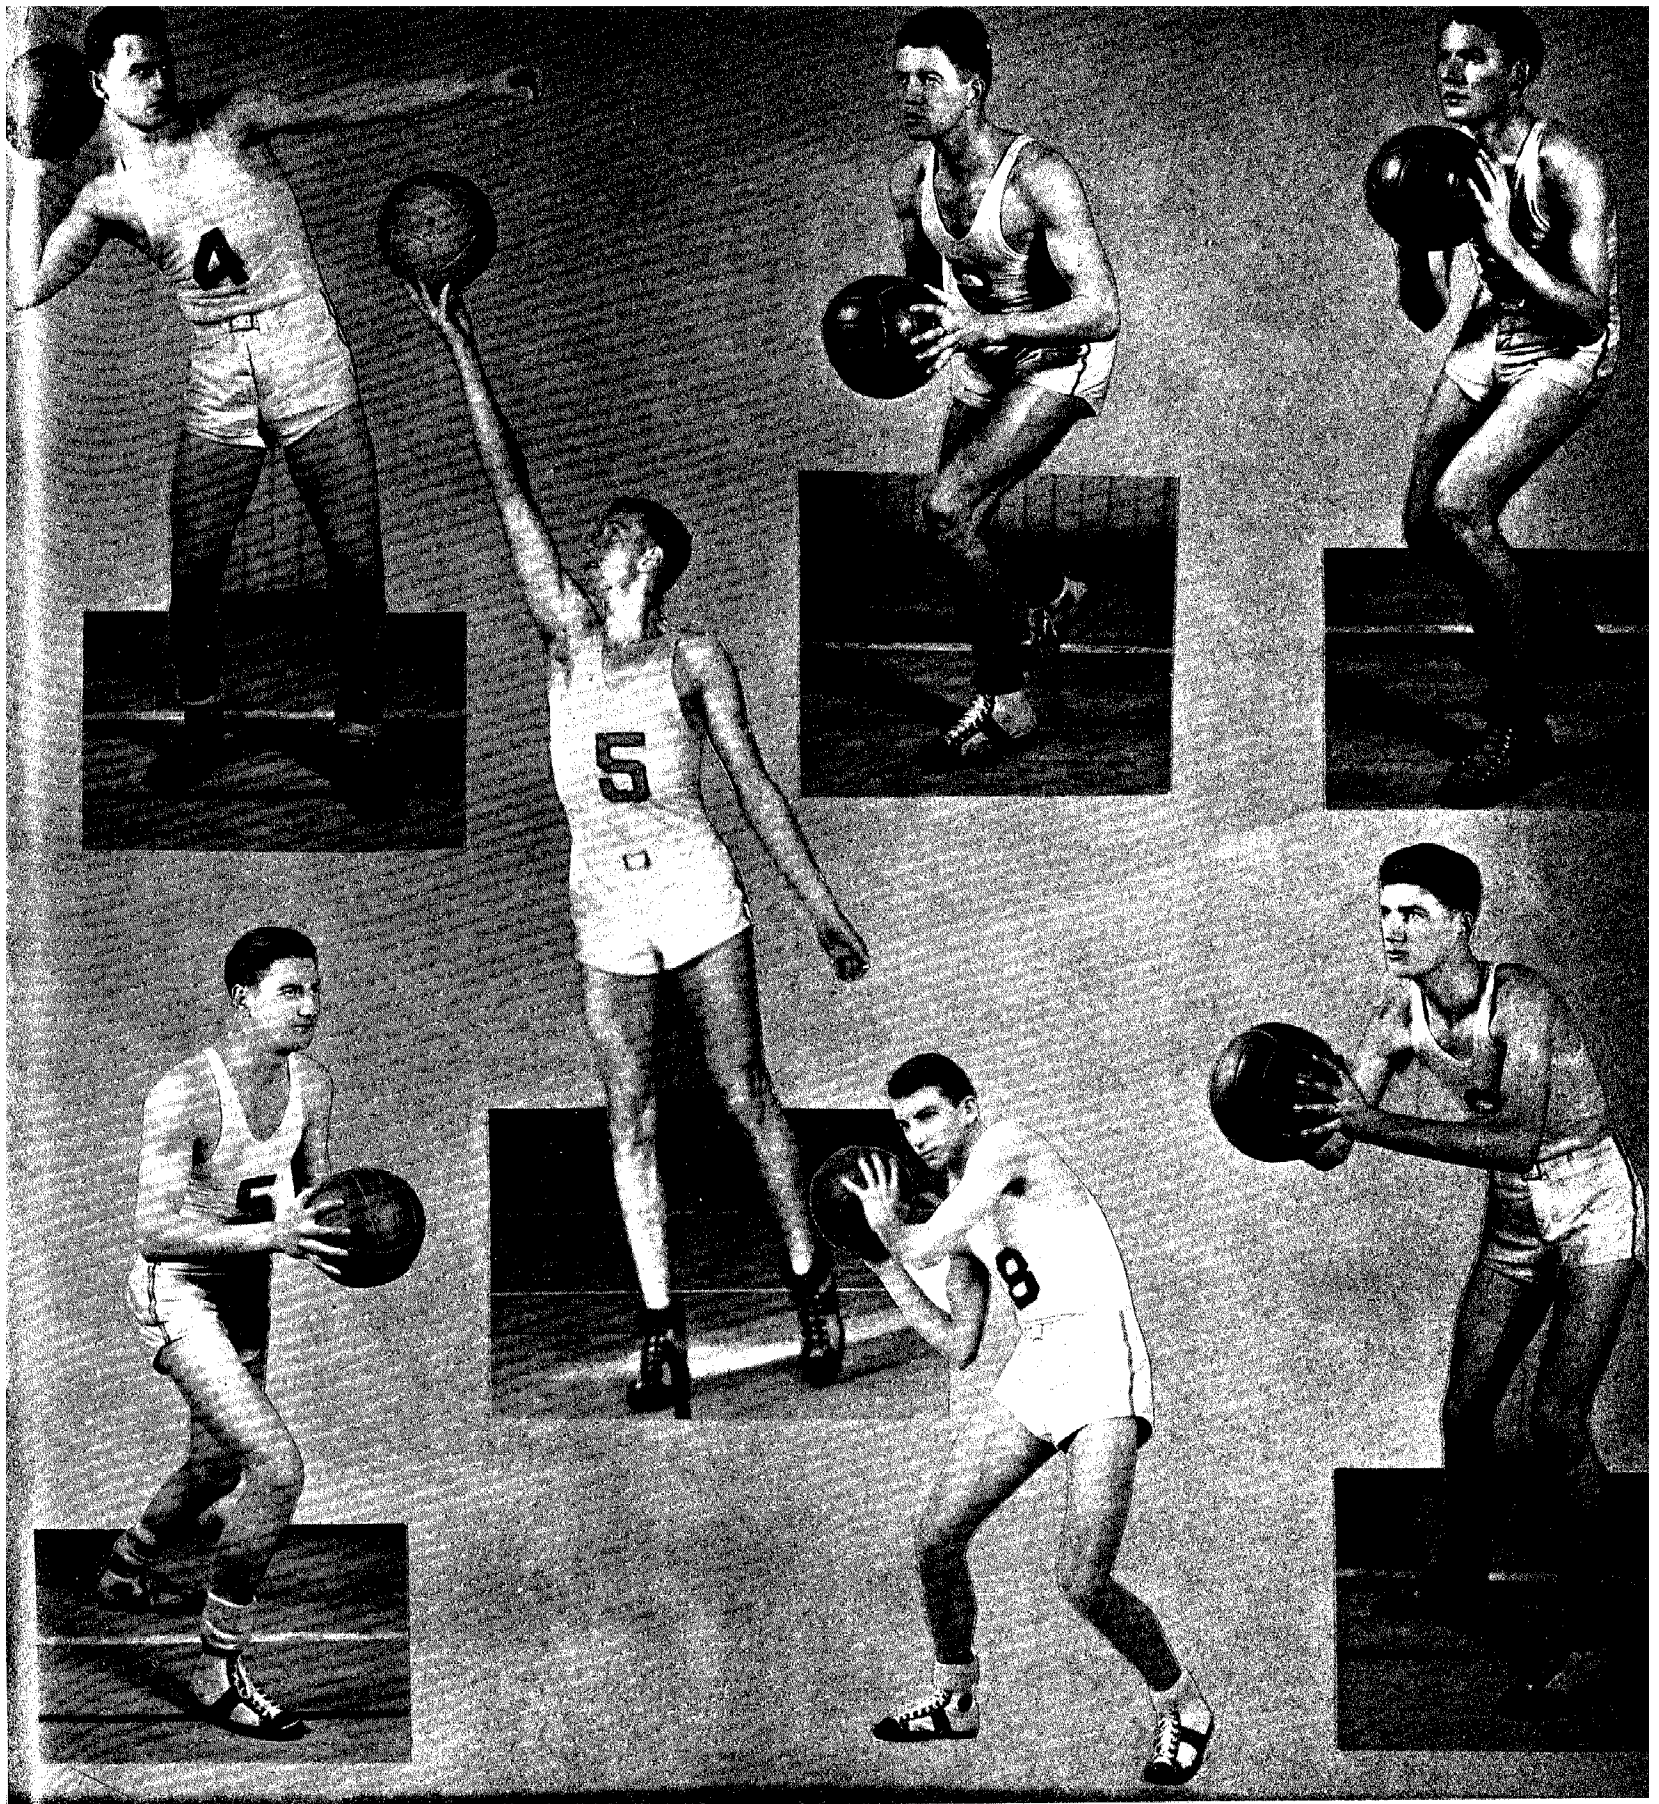

This year there was an increased development in the Provincial Inter-City League, due to the addition of another team from Calgary. The continuation of this league, formed with much difficulty last year, and the increase in its numbers, has done much to stimulate basketball here and throughout the Province.

Women's basketball this year opened with a big turnout, a new coach, good material, and plenty of enthusiasm.

Coach McIntyre's steady drilling on the fundamentals, improved to a remarkable extent the individual ability of the players, as well as giving the team a knowledge of the game that in itself was an inspiration for a hard working, serious attempt at "heads up" basketball.

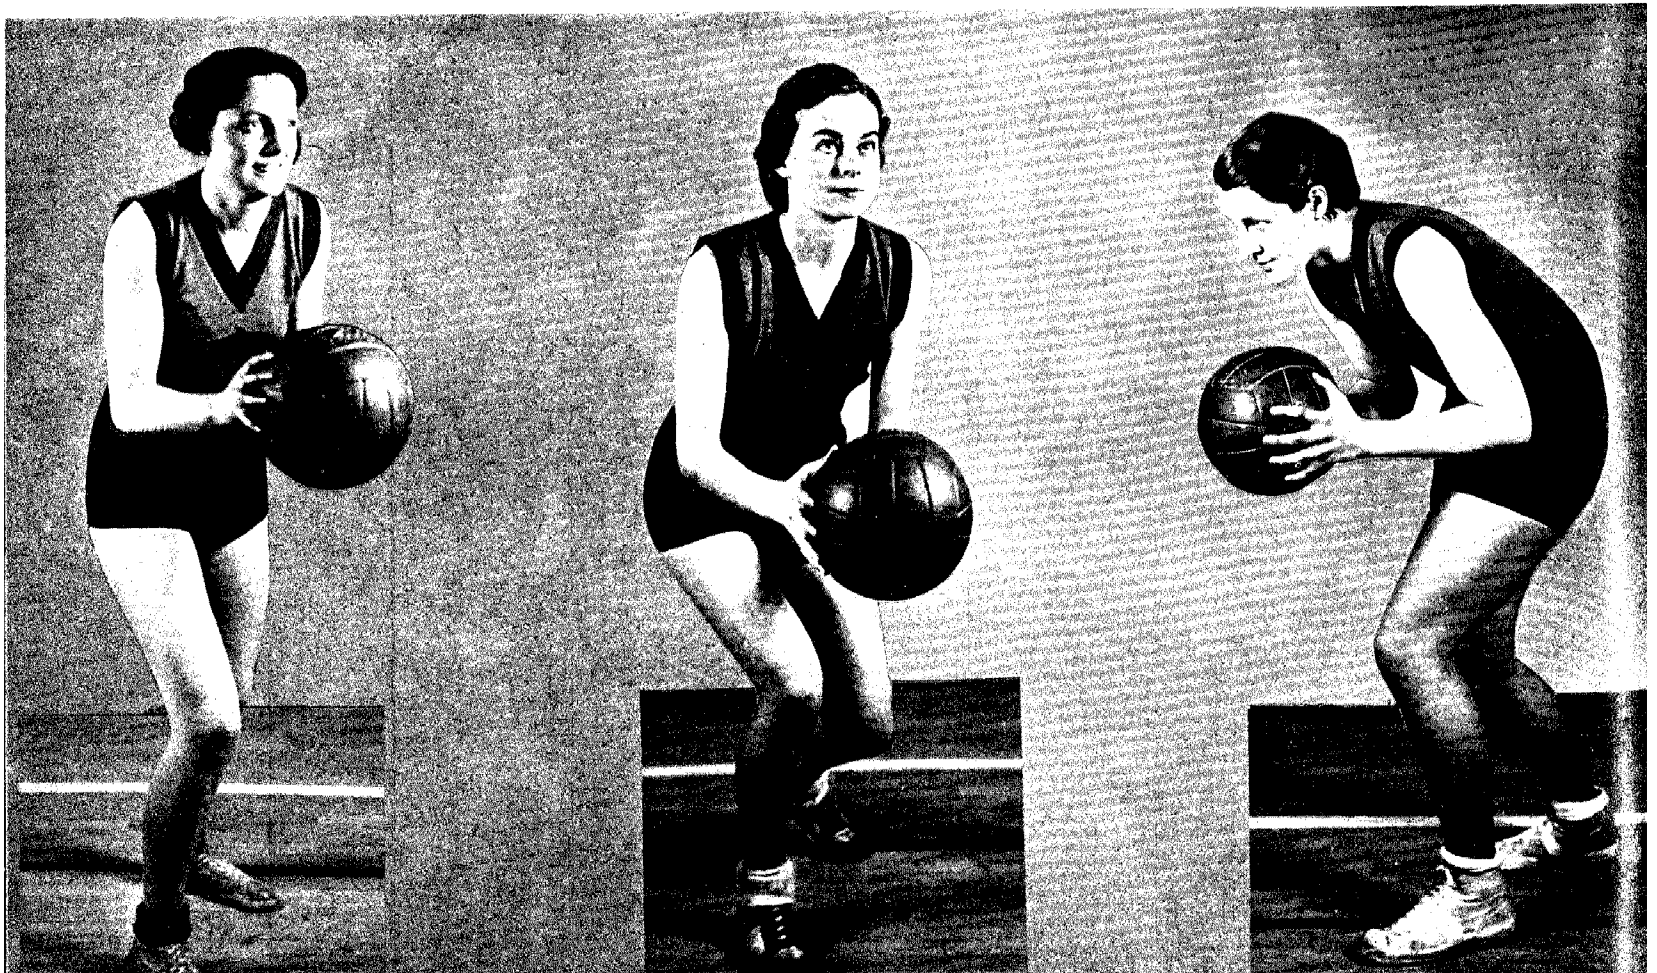

With the exception of the All-Star team, which Varsity defeated by a large score, the Edmonton games were confined entirely to the Gradettes. Although badly beaten in one game, the Varsity team due to a good fighting spirit, managed to hold the Gradettes to a lead of less than ten points in the other five games.

This year the team travelled to Calgary where they were defeated by the Redwings, and then to Saskatoon where they won both games and succeeded in keeping the Cecil Race Trophy, competed for by Western Universities.

Varsity had scarcely got under way before the women began an intensive period of training under the tutelage of Ernie Williams. Every afternoon an enthusiastic group of girls could be seen going through their paces down on the grid. Their spirit augured well for the success of Alberta's defense of the Rutherford Trophy.

Climaxing these few weeks of training, and with a trip to Saskatoon at stake, the inter-faculty field meet was held on Saturday, October 6th. This combination of events made for an interesting and closely contested program.

Beatrice Gillespie won the Bakewell Trophy, emblematic of the individual championship, with a total of eighteen points. Jennie Filipkowski and Irene Barnett were not far behind. These girls, together with Polly Piercey and Ellen Erdman were chosen to make the trek to Saskatoon.

Strong competition was assured, for Manitoba was competing this year as well as Saskatchewan. Manitoba proved the dark horse of the meet and won eight of the nine events scheduled on the card. However, in order to do this, the Brown and Gold color-bearers were forced to the limit, breaking two records and tying two others. The other event, the javelin throw was won by Jennie Filipkowski.

A great deal of credit is due to Ernie Williams who gave so freely of his time and energy in turning out another strong team. All women athletes are urged to keep in training during the summer months so that an early start may be made next fall toward the return of the Rutherford Trophy to Alberta.

This has been a big winter for Inter-fac hockey. With excellent weather conditions, over seventy hotly contested games were played, with nine teams entered in the race for the Inter-fac championship.

The "A" Section of the league was featured by a neck and neck race between Science, Pharm-Dents and Ag-Com-Law. However Ag-Com-Law succeeded in completing the schedule one point to the good of Science who in turn were closely followed by the Pharm-Dents. In the semi-finals, Science eliminated the Pharm-Dents and then finished with two straight victories over the Ag-Com-Law.

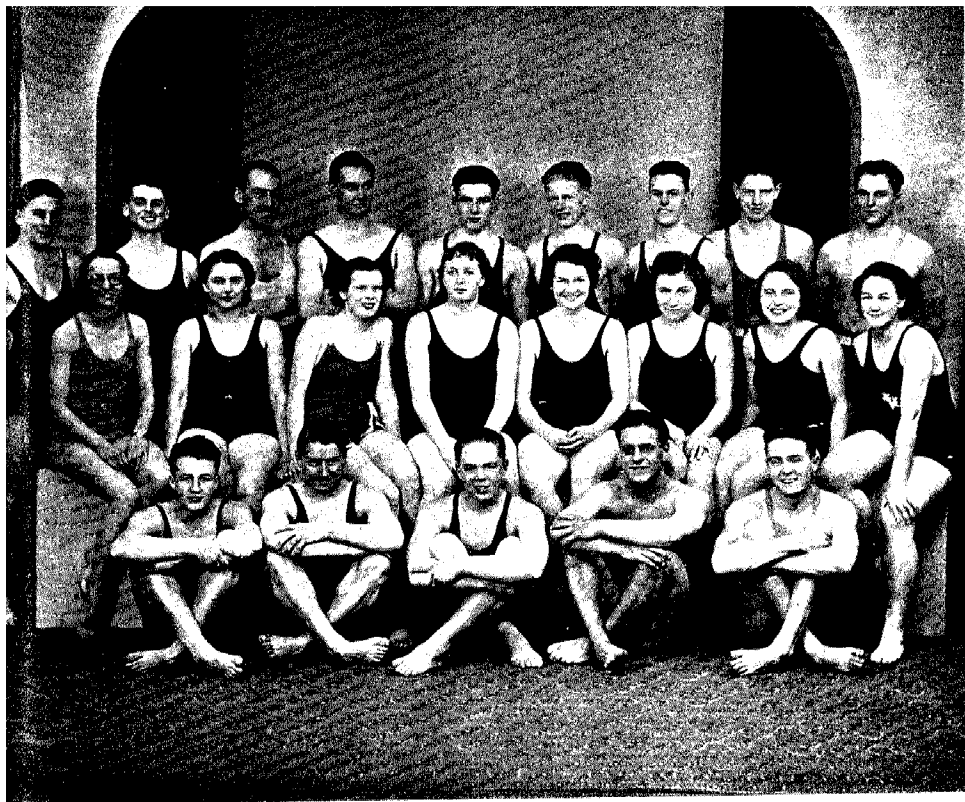

The Arts team made a poor start, went into a mid-season winning streak but faded terribly towards the end of the schedule. The luckless Meds were only able to strengthen their hold on the cellar position as the season proceeded.

In the "B" Section of the league, Science once again took the honors, defeating the Arts in a closely contested two-game series.

For future teams the necessity of coaching cannot be over emphasized both for improving and adding interest to the game, as was demonstrated this year.

SWIMMING CLUB

The Swimming Club was again handicapped by poor swimming facilities but there was a considerable increase in membership owing to the interest shown by Freshmen.

Varsity was unable to travel to Saskatchewan to compete in the Intercollegiate meet but an Inter-faculty meet was held for the first time. Three teams were entered representing five different faculties; these were Med-Pharm, Arts-Commerce, and Science. The meet was won by Med-Pharm. All the races were close and good time was made by the swimmers.

With the majority of our swimmers returning next year and prospects of better facilities it is hoped that Varsity may be able to compete again with Saskatchewan.

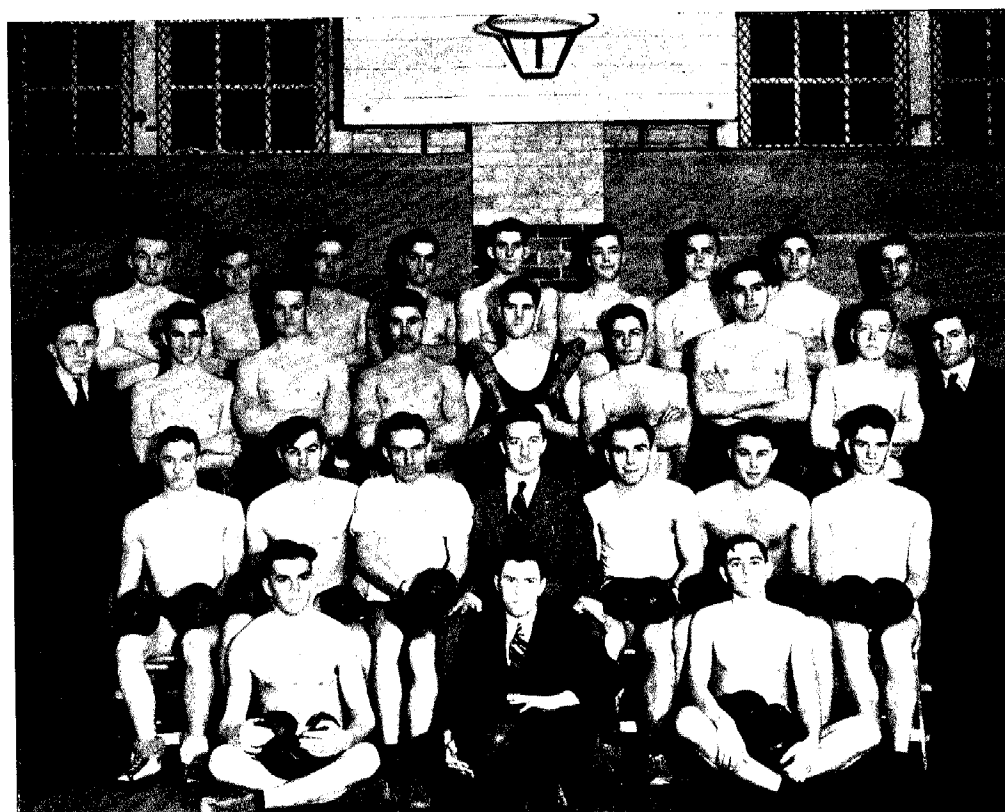

BOXING AND WRESTLING CLUB

The Boxing and Wrestling Club has experienced one of the most successful seasons in many years, the membership this year having multiplied threefold. The club now includes several champions and potential champions amongst its members.

A very successful Inter-faculty tournament was staged in November. Part of the proceeds was expended on new equipment and the rest reverted to the club treasury.

In the event of negotiations for an Inter-Varsity meet failing, the club plans to have a competition against the Camrose Normal School.

If present progress is in anywise indicative of future conditions, boxing and wrestling bids fair to eventually become a major sport.

SOCCER CLUB

The Varsity Soccer team has made great gains in re-establishing itself on the campus. Twenty-one players participated during the season, nine games were played altogether, including two against the Staff. Games were played also with city high schools. The season's results were: 5 won, 1 lost, 3 drawn. Coach J. Convey capably directed the team and proved its mainstay. Inter-Varsity Soccer is urged for next year and the Staff vs. Varsity will become an annual event.

INTER-FACULTY BASKETBALL

This year the first half of the schedule was devoted to practise games. After Christmas an eight-game schedule was operated. Five teams were represented, Agriculture, Medicine, Science, Commerce and Arts-Pharm-Law. The first three teams were particularly strong and well balanced, whereas the remaining two teams did not receive the proper support from their Faculties.

The Meds won the league schedule by a scant two points. The Ags and Science, who tied for second and third places, indulged in a two-game, total point series, which the Aggies won by three points. In the finals the Ags defeated the Meds in two straight games.

However when the seniors began to concentrate as a unit, these players formed the intermediate team and as such played a few games against the McDougall high school team. The team consisted of: Margaret Sutton as centre, Joan Hudson and Irene James as forwards, and Grace Watt and Margaret Clayton as defence.

HOUSE LEAGUE BASKETBALL

Once again the last game has been played, and shorts, sweaters and basketballs have been tucked away for another season. Barbara Jarman made a clean sweep in all three ladies' events by defeating Kay Swallow in the finals of the ladies' singles, and teaming up with Dick Hurlburt and Kay Swallow to win the mixed and women's doubles respectively.

In the men's singles, Bill Stark, a former Western Canada singles champion, romped through the field of sixty-seven entries and was only once extended to three sets. Unfortunately this year there was no inter-club tournament so no opportunity was afforded of meeting members of other clubs. As a result of the club tournament the University was represented at the Provincial tournament by Peggy Aitken, Barbara Jarman, Fraser Mitchell, Harry Cooper, and Guy Morton.

These players were successful in bringing to Varsity two provincial titles, Barbara Jarman winning the 'Ladies' Singles, and Peggy Aitken and Fraser Mitchell the Mixed Doubles.

GOLF CLUB

The University Golf Club has just concluded a most successful year. The standard of play has been of the very highest, with at least six men playing in the club who are well known in Provincial circles and not unknown in Dominion circles. It is fortunate for other Western Universities but unfortunate for us that Inter-collegiate Golf is still amongst our faintest dreams. May our standard of play remain as high until Intercollegiate Golf is a reality.

Taking advantage of a break in the weather, both high and low handicap men turned out for the annual tournament in large numbers. Bill Hoar successfully defended his title for the third consecutive year, defeating John Shipley, a former title holder in the finals.

INTER-FACULTY RUGBY

Inter-faculty rugby had one of its most successful seasons this year. All the league games and play-offs were over well before the snowfall and cold weather, which was unusual. The teams this fall were better equipped than ever before and this was instrumental in bringing out a large number of men to play.

Four teams competed in the scheduled games, embracing all faculties in which men are registered. These were divided as follows: Science, Pharm-Med-Dent, Arts-Ag-Law, and for the first time as a separate team, Commerce.

After a series of strenuous league games, Arts-Ag-Law and Science entered the play-offs on a fairly even basis. Arts-Ag-Law called upon hidden strength to win the series, scoring 8 points to their opponents 5, thus emblematic of the Inter-faculty Grid Championship.

INTER-FACULTY SPORT

The year just concluded has been very successful in Inter-faculty activities. In all branches of sport the calibre of play has been universally high, the teams have been able to draw liberally on a large and enthusiastic supply of reserves, and at times even the spectators have shown some interest. However there is still much room for improvement in the systems now in operation, especially in rugby.

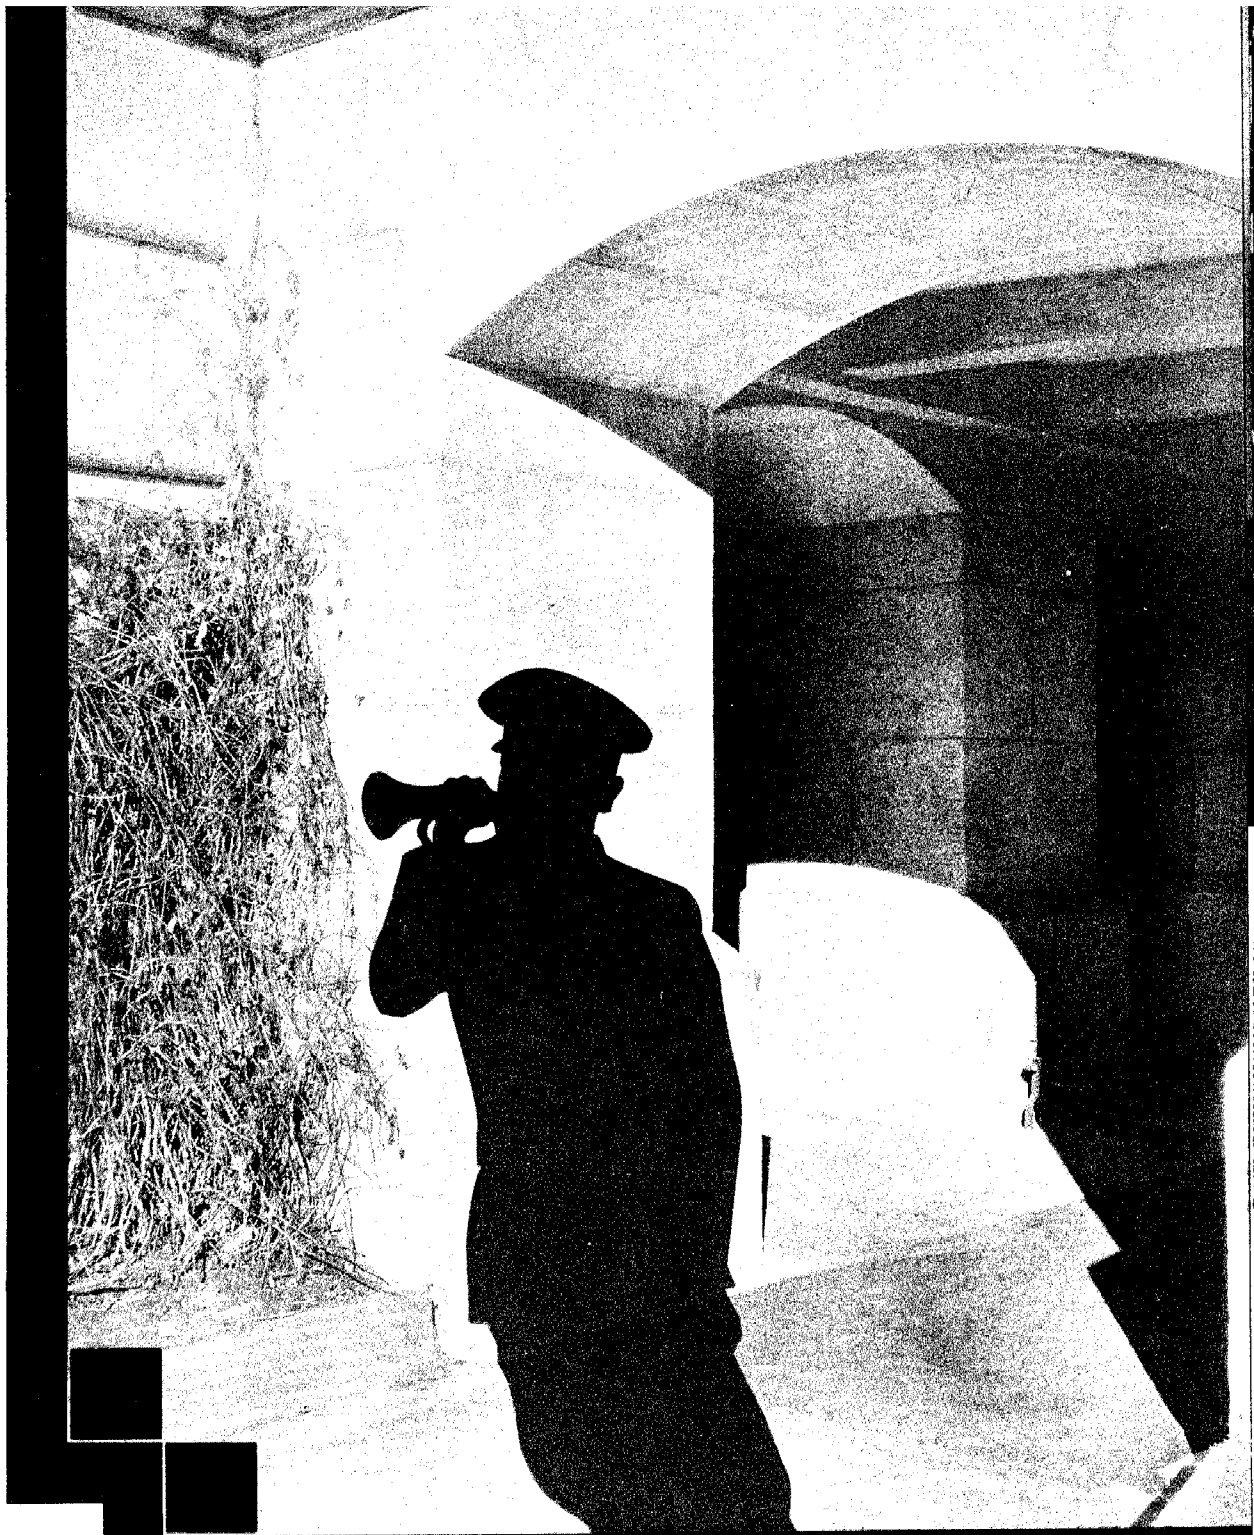

The place held by Inter-faculty sport as a "farm" for the senior teams cannot be over estimated. We can look at any one of the Varsity teams and find on it a large number of first string players who have graduated from the Inter-faculty ranks. This fact is worth considering. Up here in the "wilds" where we can not have prep. schools playing our system of play and thus developing raw material for our teams, we must find something to take their place, and Inter-faculty sport seems to be the only substitute.

The treatment of Inter-faculty sport as practiced by the Track Club is worth considering. The Inter-faculty meet is held and the best performers are then chosen on the Inter-Varsity team. While admitting that it would necessitate quite a change in the present system, would this not be applicable to all sports? Most certainly it would excite much more interest in Inter-faculty games, and bring many more people into the realm of sport, which is something to be desired. Might not it also bring to light some badly needed new material? All in all, it seems a system worthy of consideration.

CANADIAN OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

C.S.M. J. O. R. EVANS
M.C., P.P.C.I.C.
P.T. INSTRUCTOR

LIEUT. COL. F. H. STRICKLAND
OFFICER COMMANDING

At 1815 hrs. 5 Mar. '35, Lieut. J. W. Dallamore handed in his M.B. 39 (which, to the initiated, is an Army Examination Book). Since he was the last candidate to do so, this terminated the 20th annual training season of the U. of A. Contingent of the C.O.T.C.

During the past summer the Command of the Unit changed hands. Lieut. Col. F. A. Stewart Dunn, V.D., A.D.C., after ten years of service as Officer Commanding, resigned his appointment in order to proceed to China on a year's leave of absence from the University, and the Command has been taken over by Lieut. Col. E. H. Strickland.

Events of interest during the present session were as follows:

November 11th—About fifty members attended the Armistice Parade.

December 6th—The Annual officers' dinner was held at the Connaught Armouries. The Honorary Colonel of the Unit, His Honour the Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, was in attendance.

February 9th—Practical Examinations in "A" and "B" Certificates. Of 101 candidates who underwent examination 91 were successful.

February 23rd—Inspection of the entire Unit by Brigadier W. B. Spry, O.B.E., V.D., District Officer Commanding M.D. 13. One hundred and thirty-nine officers and other ranks were present on this occasion and they demonstrated that the C.O.T.C. is "second to none" in smartness on the drill hall floor. At the termination of the ceremonial parade, in which all members participated, the personnel of the different Arms of the Service, under the able direction of their various instructors, demonstrated their prowess in the subjects in which they have specialized.

The D.O.C. stated that he was very favourably impressed with the results of the year's training and he commented on the big strides which have been made in the efficiency of the Unit since his last attendance at an inspection some years previously.

The Unit Dinner was held in St. Joseph's College after the inspection. This was a great success, both as a dinner and for the entertainment which followed under the able direction of Lieut. Whiteside. The only regrettable feature was that no girls could be present to see C. S. M. Weekes in his busby and scarlet tunic.

March 5th and 6th witnessed the final assault of 105 candidates in a night attack upon the written portion of "A" and "B" Certificate examinations. The results are not yet to hand since the papers are now at the War Office in London, where they are to be marked.

INSTRUCTORS

The Unit has been congratulated at H.Q. M.D. 13 upon the fact that so many actual members of the Unit undertake instructional duties. Great credit is due to those members who, in addition to carrying heavy courses of study as University students, have so ably qualified themselves to assist in this training. The list of instructors is as follows:

Lt. Col. E. H. Strickland	-	-	-	-	-	"B" Certificate
Major D. E. Cameron, Capt. J. R. B. Jones	-	-	-	-	-	Officers

C.O.T.C. INTER-VARSITY RIFLE COMPETITION, 1935

Early in the year an Inter-varsity shooting competition was arranged between the members of the respective C.O.T.C.'s of the four Western Universities.

The results of this competition were as follows: Manitoba, 941; Alberta, 938; Saskatchewan, 922; British Columbia, 879.

The U. of A. team captained by Lieut. A. N. Whiteside, are to be congratulated on the excellent scores which they obtained.

"A" AND "B" CERTIFICATES, 1934

The undermentioned candidates were successful in obtaining their War Office Certificates in March, 1934:

SCHOLARSHIPS

Winners of the Alberta Military Institute Scholarship, 1934—

"A" Certificate, value $25—Cad. E. A. C. Clarke.

"B" Certificate, value $50—Sgt. J. L. Pidoux.

These results are most gratifying and they speak for themselves regarding the quality of the work which has been maintained by all members of the Unit throughout the year. It is a matter of some regret that the results of the written portion of the examinations can not be returned from England in time for inclusion in this summary of the current year's activities.

The U. of A. Contingent of the C.O.T.C. holds the proud distinction of having consistently qualified more candidates than has that of any other University in Canada. There is every reason to believe that the season of 1934-35 will see no break in this record.

What do Dekes talk about besides their residential remoteness, their irresistible personnel, their lustrous escutcheon, their impressive indifference, their cultural unassailability, their intellectual superiority, their impeccable unimpeachability, their moral impregnability, their aristocratic selectivity, their philosophic penetrability, their sanctified inaccessability, and their polar frigidity?

Why, about everybody else's residential gaucherie, personal vulgarity, gross impeachability, turpitudinous morality, cultural ineffectuality, intellectual asininity, philosophic ineffability, sinful historicity, unholy Babbitry, callow naivete, and grotesque torridity.

DELTA UPSILON

This stodgy collection of rakes was known as Pi Epsilon up till last January when they pulled the wool over the eyes of a D.U. convention and got installed as a local chapter.

Not only do the treasurer and secretary of the Students' Union hail from this gang of rowdies, but one of their Alumni, McIntosh by name, once graduated in Commerce. It seems there is nothing too low for a D.U. to do.

"Exquisite Ed" McCormick, the Spirit of Publicity, and the Pride of the Gas House, is of this ilk, and even some of the D.U.'s (including McCormick) are proud of him.

—being excerpts from a longer atrocity committed by one Tee Wee.

Now women since the time of Eve
Have had one object to achieve:
They make their deepest, subtlest plan
To captivate unwilling man,
Browbeat him into quick submission
And keep him in the same condition.
Their technique to attain this aim
Has not always been the same.
Long years ago the human form
Did not arouse an angry storm
Of protest, nor was it thought crude
To display beauty in the nude.
This was the time before 'twas law
To wear so much but nothing more,
So women could with cunning dress
Accentuate their nakedness.
And fashions varied by the hour
And exercised uncanny power:
For those that nature made obese
All matrimonial hopes must cease.
But just as soon as there was worth
In bulky charms and ample girth,
The only way to gain a mate
Was palpably to put on weight.
So woman has with shameless guile
Intrigued and used her every wile
To get poor man within her snare
And hold him when she'd got him there.

The College of Yesterday ..Today.. and Tomorrow..

Since the advent of newspapers, the tempo of change in the elements of civilization has been increased. Today with the reverberations of far-reaching events and discoveries echoing round the world, with the shifting currents of opinion moulding new ways of thought and of life, the daily newspaper contains the very substance of a liberal education and commands the attention of keen minds.

A worthy representative of the daily press in the Dominion is the Calgary Herald. Informed, unbiased, covering every phase of the news from sports to world affairs, the Herald presents a graphic picture of our changing age from day to day. Special correspondence from world centres, pertinent comment, interesting articles, and amusing features make this newspaper one of Canada's leading dailies.

The Calgary Herald

After You Graduate - - What Then?

School and college days are soon over. Education is a big factor in success but yours will be incomplete without a knowledge of Life Insurance as applied to your future needs. An Endowment Policy in the Mutual Life of Canada is the best kind of investment you can make. At a certain age you will be assured of a definite amount of money and in the meantime you are guaranteed a protection that no other method of saving can give you. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose. The earlier you insure the less it will cost you.

We shall be pleased to send you information regarding life insurance and particularly Mutual Life of Canada policies. Drop a card to one of the addresses given below.

PROGRESS!

THE progress of an individual, or a utility, is a record of continuous change. The ideas of yesterday seldom meet the conditions of today—and what is sound logic at the present may be stagnation tomorrow.

Through more than a century of public service the gas industry has been ever ready to meet the changing needs of the times. First developed for lighting purposes, gas now serves that need in but few localities—yet modern homes and industry put it to more than 20,000 different uses, and new ones are being constantly discovered. These range from the tiny flame operating a refrigerator to the giant burners which shoot the thermometers to 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

In Alberta, too, the intense heat, unvarying temperature, and instant flexibility of Natural Gas is a vital part of many industrial processes—and of course in some 35,000 homes it maintains a standard of clean, easy comfort impossible by any other means.

Underlying the material and workmanship of any product, are the hidden values . . . the vital elements of reputation, integrity, dependability.

Hence, on generators, motors and transformers, the largest electrical equipment which must not fail, you will find the name Westinghouse. And, in the modern electric appliances which serve your home and industry, that same name of Westinghouse stands for your guidance and protection. The "Westinghouse" name plate not only guarantees dependability and value . . . it stands for stability . . . it assures you of the last word in electrical engineering and manufacturing precision.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The Thetas are known throughout the Campus as a great bunch of floosies. We admit they are not much on looks, all out of shape, and pretty dumb. But after all, beauty is only skin deep, one might say.

The Thetas are right in there when it comes to ideas. Right now they are trying to introduce a new ruling into the Students' Union Constitution that all freshettes must eat lunch at the Theta House. Certain jealous Tri-Delts have gone so far as to suggest that this is really not a relief scheme at all but merely a gag, as one might say, to help them in their rushing.

In order that the Pi Phis might think they are popular, the girls have adopted a system of sitting at home with the upstairs lights out. The girls downstairs put the lights out for an entirely different reason (to save on the light bill).

ZETA PSI

If this chap Bill Shakespeare, who did a bit in the line of poetry and stuff a few centuries ago, could come to life today and see the Zetes, he would probably, under the stress of the occasion, mutter one of his oft-quoted lines— "Oh, Hell What have we here?"

The brothers have been polishing up on their athletics ever since Willie Scott and Herb Gale got to be the big pushes in Men's Athletics for next year and the house is beginning to take on that gymnasium odor already. Apparently Proctor is thinking of going in for wrestling as well as golf. That his success in this line is assured is the claim of several spectators, who have been astounded at the various holds he exhibits behind Pembina nearly every night.

Since rating the last two Rhodes Scholars, the lads have taken to smoking to hide their pride under a cloak of nonchalance. Rumors have it that little Willie is rubbing vanishing cream on his chin every night so that he will be able to smoke a curved-stem pipe.

PHI KAPPA PI

Otherwise known as the Chiselers' Club, is probably the greatest collection of scroungers in Canada. They would be the greatest collection in America except that it is not an international fraternity.

Although their chiseling is carried on from one end of the Campus to the other, they are at their best when doing one of their brothers out of a Pi Phi date. One night Jim Cherrington and Dick Burns were flipping to see who would take out Skiv Edwards' girl friend. They found afterwards that Paul Phillips had already dated her.

The object of every loyal Phi Kap is to get to Frank, Alberta and see what he can do about starting the land slide that Dr. Allan has been predicting for the last 30 years.

DELTA GAMMA

The D. G.'s (with the accent and a lift of the left eyebrow on the "D") by a clever collection of trickery, still manage to rate as a sort of mediocre selection of dolls.

The trickery consists of first inviting a lot of unsuspecting Freshmen over to their house as soon as the term opens. These dupes figure it is their duty to retaliate with a bid to something or other. Thus these scheming women manage to get everywhere. In 1931, one of them even made the Junior Prom.

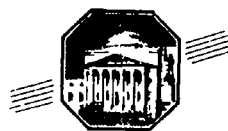

The D. G. House is enough to awe a senior or even a newer member of the Faculty. It is slightly larger than the Arts and Med Buildings put together.

One time a chap went to call for Fern Atkinson. He became confused in the front hall, got lost, and wandered around for days without seeing a soul. He was found exhausted three weeks later in the bathtub.

When You Take Your PLACE in BUSINESS LIFE

When college days are over and you take your place in business or professional life, one of the most important contacts you will have will be with your banker. Your banking connection will then be an essential part of your daily life.

The Bank of Montreal welcomes your account as a student and, with its long experience, great resources and nationwide organization, it is in a position to give you helpful service wherever you may live in later years.

The Phi Delt claim to fame is the possession of the furthest north fraternity house in the world (N.B. Mr. Ripley). However, contrary to popular supposition, these he-men do not wear parkas and eat blubber, but Gibson and McNeill wear fur-lined nighties on account of they have the furthest north room in the house

Most of the boys have moved out this year because of the strict drinking regulations which state that not even a small fizz is allowed any member between 2 a.m. and breakfast time.

Cameron, who knows the President of the Awards Committee, got a Big Block (swelled head) this year and has since signed a contract to stand in the Delt hallway during rushing season every year. Maybe they'll get something good now

TORCH SONG

There ain't no nuthin' much no more,

And nuthin' ain't no use ter me,

In vain I tread the lonely shore

For I have saw the last of thee

I seen a ship upon the deep—

I haven't did a thing but weep

Since thou hast went

Alas, for I ain't one of thev

Who hasn't got no faith in love,

And them fond words of vesterday

They was spoke true by heaven above!

Is it all off twist me and you?

Will you wed some other gent?

The things I done I'd fain undo

Since thou hast went

O love, I done what I had did

Without no thought of no offense,

Return, return, I sadly bid

Before my feelings get intense.

I have gave up all thought of wealth

I have gave up all thought of fame,

But O, the joy, 'twould be to know

That thou hast came!

NORTHWESTERN UTILITIES LIMITED

A Utility Devoted to Good Public Service

Enough Left Over To Dress Their Best And Go Places.....

THAT is the achievement in budgeting their incomes of the thrifty shoppers who are the backbone of EATON'S. So clever are they in planning... so wise in spending... they have learned to spin out the dollar to meet their needs and obligations and still have this happy remainder. To just such folk EATON'S has its greatest appeal... VALUES! The year-in, year-out outstanding values in seasonable and standard merchandise.

How do we know? Because these outstandingly good, regular values are EATON'S chief stock in trade. Perpetual and fascinating Sales... these are an EATON specialty. The new and exclusive ---well, just watch the Store displays. But steady-going, most-for-your-money values in universally wanted wares and wearables---it's on these foundations that EATON'S has built up the edifice of a mighty business enterprise.

Delta Delta Delta

These homeless waifs like themselves so well that they named themselves three times. They were founded in Boston on Thanksgiving Eve in 1888, but in spite of this fact, people still celebrate on that day.

Their flower is the pansy, but the Phi Deltas have as yet failed to show their appreciation in any way

Generally speaking, Tri Deltas are exceptionally sympathetic and friendly. In Joe's Cafeteria on Saturday mornings, Nan Evans has often been seen to force a little laugh over some of the jokes that appeared in Casserole the night before. But Margery Mackenzie will have her work cut out for her next year, when she becomes right-hand man to a Woman Hater

In spite of the fact that Lois Whitby is a decided blonde (she decided about two years ago), her nefarious doings have made a blot on the fraternity's escutcheon—sort of darkness on the Delta. Pembina will be glad when she leaves—they have had to buy three new phones and six sets of batteries for the caller's bell this year.
